Union Claims No Intention Of Striking

Washington (AP) — Steel wage negotiations collapsed at the White House yesterday but CIO President Philip Murray said "we have no intention of calling a strike against the government."

Murray told newsmen a few minutes after White House peace efforts failed that "naturally we hope, although the conditions at the moment are deplorable, that our people will continue at work during government operation of the steel properties."

Murray conferred with reporters shortly after Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential assistant had announced that White House "steel wage negotiations were off because "no agreement can be reached at this time."

Murray said the companies never increased their wage offer at the White House beyond the 12½ cent wage boost and 5½ cent fringe benefit package offered the union "more than three weeks ago."

He denounced the steel companies for what he called "conditioning this offer upon the government's granting them price increases beyond those allowable under the government's stabilization policies."

A. B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel, speaking for industry representatives at the White House conference, said the companies "tried earnestly to reach an agreement with the CIO Steelworkers Union."

"Mr. Murray still refused to consider the offer made by the steel companies three weeks ago," Homer said, "consisting of a $1 a day wage increase, six paid holidays, more liberal vacations, greater shift premiums and other benefits.

"No proposals were offered by the union. Instead, they insisted upon the full recommendations of the Wage Board."

Homer said the industry "could not accept" a union shop in the industry. This was one of the Wage Board's recommendations.

Homer told newsmen the government had previously assured the industry that if a wage offer of a certain amount was made "we would be taken care of on prices on a basis that was satisfactory."

Actually, however, Homer said, there was no assurance of adequate price increases made at the White House during the last two days—"none whatsoever."

Industry executives, Homer said, "have agreed to defer the present negotiations but to continue to give consideration to a solution of the problem and to hold ourselves subject to call."

Although Steelman, top adviser to President Truman on labor matters, said the government "will continue its efforts to find a solution" there was no indication of any immediate peace moves.

"There are a number of issues on which the parties are so far apart that no agreement" is possible now, Steelman told newsmen.

Steelman did not spell out the "number of issues" but a union shop demand is believed to be one of them.

Under the union shop, all the workers in the industry would have to belong to Murray's Steelworkers union.

500 Rioting Prisoners Set Fire To Two Cell Blocks, Chapel; Ten Persons Hurt

Montreal, (AP)—More than 500 screaming prisoners rioted for five hours yesterday at Bordeaux Prison, demanding better food and a new prison governor.

About 10 guards and prisoners were reported injured—none seriously—in the fray in which neither side resorted to gunfire. The rioters set fire to two cell blocks and the chapel of the wheel-shaped prison and ran out into the big prison yard.

The rioting subsided about 9 p.m. as the last of the unruly mob of prisoners straggled from the yard into the fire damaged prison.

Scores of police, summoned from all over Montreal, had entered the yard more than an hour earlier but made no effort to drive the prisoners forcibly back into the building.

Most of the policemen entered a section of the prison near the gate where they were reported to have discarded their firearms. They went into the yard holding their nightsticks.

At the height of the disorder the prisoners were reported to have broken into the canteen and ransacked the place for cigarettes and candy.

No hostages were reported held.

Some Airlines Trim Flight Schedules To Comply With Gasoline Limitation Order

New York, (AP)—Many of the nation's airlines took preliminary steps yesterday toward trimming flight schedules to comply with a government-ordered 30 per cent cut in the use of aviation gasoline for civilian purposes.

Others adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

The limitation order, effective at 4:01 a. m. Tuesday and continuing for 28 days, was caused by a country-wide strike of CIO, AFL and independent oil workers.

American Airlines, busiest of the domestic carriers, said it is planning to consolidate some flights and eliminate others.

Representatives of a number of other major airlines said plans for cutting service are under consideration but no action has been taken.

Trans World Airlines, operating on both domestic and international routes, said the curtailment order had not been received and the company was not speculating on its plans at this time.

Northwest Airlines said it expected no immediate effect on schedules.

Eastern Airlines declined to comment.

Pan American World Airways officials said they are waiting to see the order.

The curtailment comes at a time when the airlines' business is approaching a Summer peak.

Russell Given Slim Edge In Florida Voting

By The Associated Press

Democrats will name 180 national convention delegates and Republicans 78 in the politically busy forthcoming week during which chief interest centers on Florida's Democratic primary test between Sens. Estes Kefauver and Richard B. Russell.

Russell, of Georgia, was generally credited with a slight edge, but the Tennessean's folksy campaigning, which has helped carry him to victory in other state primaries, was believed to be winning him a lote of votes. This will be Florida's first presidential preference primary in 20 years. It is only a popularity contest; delegates will be chosen later.

Among the Republicans, Sen. Robert A. Taft is expected to pull back into the delegate lead which he relinquished for the first time last week to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his chief rival for the GOP nomination.

Taft's home state, Ohio, will select 56 Republican and 54 Democratic convention delegates tomorrow. Taft can count on most of the 56, although in most of the delegate contests he has opposition from a slate pledged to Harold E. Stassen.

N. J. Boy's Body Taken From River

Milford — The body of a New Jersey boy, drowned in the Delaware River near Masthope April 6, was found floating in the river at 10 a. m. yesterday, three miles south of Milford bridge.

This was just 30 minutes before a fisherman spotted the body of a Stroudsburg man who had drowned in Paradise Creek, Monroe County, a week ago.

The boy was Roy Hess, 13, Packanack Lake, who was lost when his canoe capsized in the flooded river on a Sunday morning.

A major search had been conducted for the youth throughout the month. CAP planes, hundreds of volunteers, and State Police from Pike County and Narrowsburg, N. Y., had scoured the banks and the river for more than 20 miles below Masthope.

The body was first seen at 8:35 a.m. yesterday by Clarence Musselwhite, a guard on the Milford bridge.

Musselwhite telephoned Milford State police, who in turn put out a call for members of the Milford Boat club.

The boatmen put several outboards on the river and started searching.

The body was found an hour and a half later by Daniel Burd, one of the club members, from his boat. The body was floating near the New Jersey side of the river.

Milford State police said they had a detail waiting on the New Jersey side of the river when the youth was brought ashore there. Identification was made by police, and New Jersey authorities were notified.

A detail from the Newton, N. J., State police took charge of the body and arranged for its removal to Packanack Lake.

Still being sought by Pike County authorities is the body of Cpl. John Genetsky, 22, Wilkes-Barre, who slipped and was carried to his death in the Lackawaxen River near Kimbles, Pike County, April 25.

Allies Retake Hill Position

Seoul, Korea (AP) — Allied infantrymen yesterday retook an advanced hilltop position on the Western Korean front which they had yielded Saturday in a bitter, day-long battle.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported the outpost, west and northwest of Yonchon, was reoccupied without opposition. An estimated 350 Chinese Reds forced Allied soldiers from the position Saturday.

BODY OF ROBERT O. FISH, 28, Stroudsburg, is carried up the bank of Paradise Creek yesterday morning after being taken from the water by Stroudsburg State police and volunteers. Body was sought by police and hundreds of volunteers for a week before a fisherman spotted it about two miles south of Analomink. Assisting the operation is Daniel G. Warner (in dark suit), Stroudsburg funeral home director who is in charge of services. (Daily Record Photo).

Search Ends; Discovery Made By Fisherman

The body of Robert O. Fish, 28, Stroudsburg, was found in Paradise Creek south of Analomink yesterday after a week's search by State police, CAP planes and hundreds of volunteers.

Fish, whose residence was 913 Sarah St., disappeared April 26 shortly after 9 p. m. His car had run off the highway and down a bank to the edge of the creek. Motorists had last seen him standing on a rock at the edge of the swollen water, after climbing from the car.

Yesterday Earl Weiss Jr., 388 Braeside Ave., East Stroudsburg, was fishing along the creek bank when he spotted "something white" under the surface of the water about 10:30 a.m.

Weiss, who knew the tale of Fish's disappearance, walked to the nearby home of Ernest VanFleet who was mowing his lawn under the hot sun.

VanFleet returned to the spot with Weiss, then went back for four other neighbors. The six agreed that the "something white" might be a shirt or a man's arms.

Harold Nauman, East Stroudsburg RD2, garage operator, telephoned Stroudsburg State police at 10:55.

Sgt. Morgan B. Davis, Pfc. Joseph Murphy and Pfc. Ed Beneski went to the scene, located about halfway between Analomink and Percy Crawford's cabins.

Aided by LeRoy Treible, Analomink, and Vernon Penell, East Stroudsburg RD2, police confirmed the find. The body was some three and a half to four miles below where Fish had disappeared.

Sgt. Davis said the creek was narrow and surging at the spot. The water beat into white froth around a big rock in the creek bed.

One of the crew with a chain around his waist held by the others, worked his way onto the rock and was joined by two more. The chain was held by the two men remaining on the bank.

The lower part of Fish's body had been jammed under the rock by the current's fast back-eddy. The body was worked free and brought to shore by the use of ropes.

Word of the discovery passed rapidly up and down the creek to the dozens of other searchers, including some of Fish's relatives, fellow Worthington Mower employes, and CAP volunteers from Allentown.

Coroner W. E. Andrew was called to the scene by police. He issued an official verdict of accidental drowning.

Also called was Daniel G. Warner, Stroudsburg funeral director, who removed the body to Stroudsburg pending services.

Mr. Fish was born in the Stroudsburg area and attended borough schools. He had been employed at Worthington Mower Co. for the past five years.

He attended St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg.

A veteran of World War Two, he served as a sergeant with the Service Squadron of the 437th Air Service Group in the European Theater.

Surviving are his wife, Irene May Fish; one daughter, Barbara Ann; his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fish, all at home and a number of aunts and uncles in the Stroudsburg area.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Warner funeral home, Stroudsburg. Rev. P. N. Wohlsen will officiate.

The Monroe County Joint Memorial Committee will hold special military services. Location of the cemetery will be announced.

Hope Of Korean Armistice Fades As Talks Deadlock

Munsan, Korea, (AP)—Hopes for agreement on a Korean armistice faded rapidly today as top level negotiators prepared for their fifth secret plenary session at Panmunjom.

The meeting opened at 11 a. m. and adjourned 11 minutes later.

The Allied and Communist delegations met only 13 minutes yesterday—their shortest conference since they began consideration of the United Nations Command proposal for a package solution of the truce issues.

There was no official comment regarding yesterday's session, but U. N. Command negotiators could not conceal the gravity of the situation.

It was apparent that the U. N. Command did not intend to advance any further proposals in an effort to break the deadlock over prisoner exchange, the nomination of neutral truce inspectors and air field construction.

The U. N. proposal has not been disclosed, but speculation last week centered on the possibility the Allies would agree to permit air-field construction if the Reds withdrew Russia's nomination as a neutral inspector and agreed to voluntary repatriation of prisoners.

West German Leaders Push Peace Talks

Bonn, Germany (AP) — Western and German leaders pushed vigorously ahead yesterday to complete the peace contract for West Germany despite a growing revolt by powerful political forces which appears to have put the agreement in serious trouble.

But despite the manifold storm signals, Western officials said experts of the Bonn government and the three occupation powers are working 16 hours a day to settle the remaining points of disagreement in the contract.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the Western high commissioners meet again Tuesday on the contract with Allied officials still publicly hopeful they can complete their work by May 20. But many German leaders, including some members of Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party, are saying the May 20 deadline is out and long negotiations lie ahead.

Two parties in Adenauer's three-party coalition government — the Free Democrats and the German party—have announced that they will not ratify the peace contract in its present form. They say it does not give West Germany enough sovereignty.

Powerful labor unions are fighting his rearmament program and the Allies have announced they will make no more concessions to win German agreement to the contract.

Air Ace Hits MIG In Battle

With the U.S. Fifth Air Force, Korea, (AP)—Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., an ace of two wars, was credited by Fifth Air Force with damaging a Communist MIG-15 jet yesterday in an aerial dogfight over Northwest Korea.

Gabreski, commander of the 51st Fighter-Interceptor Wing, now has a total of six and one-half Red aircraft destroyed and one damaged.

He became a jet ace April 1 when he shot down his fifth Red fighter. He was the eighth American jet pilot to attain that rating.

Gabreski was a leading ace in World War Two. He shot down 28 German planes and destroyed three more on the ground.

Dies In Blaze

Uniontown (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan O'Brien, 27, burned to death yesterday in the bedroom of her home. Her husband, Francis, staggered from the smoke-filled house unhurt. Firemen said a cigaret apparently set off the blaze.

Missing Boy Found Alive

The boy, Dennis Smith, disappeared Saturday from a cabin in the northern part of the county where his parents were fishing.

Young Dennis, except for a few scatches on his face, suffered no ill effects from the long ordeal in the cold woods. He was too frightened to talk.

Two searchers, Clayton Meyers and Thomas Davidson, both of Osceola Mills, came across the boy about noon yesterday walking along a high ridge.

Driver Resists Holdup, Is Shot By Hitch-Hikers

Sunbury (AP) — State police sent out an alarm for two youthful hitch-hikers who wounded a motorist during an attempted holdup last night.

Robert Fenstermacher of Sunbury told police the youths fired on him when he failed to turn over his wallet to them.

The shooting took place north of here on the Danville road. Fenstermacher said he picked the youths up on the outskirts of Sunbury.

He said he had stopped the car and was attempting to evade the attackers when he was shot in the right shoulder and the right ankle. He said the attackers fled the car after the shooting. He managed to drive back here where he notified the police.

Police Investigate Divorcee's Death

York (AP) — City police sought yesterday to learn the circumstances surrounding the death of a 44-year-old divorcee whose body was found in the hall of a rooming house.

The woman, Mrs. Catherine Grissinger, died shortly after her unconscious body was found early Saturday by two friends.

Dr. Morgan Zarfos, coroner's physician, said after an autopsy the woman died of head injuries which resulted in a cerebral hemorrhage.

Dr. Morgan said also there were bruises above her right eye and on her left arm and shoulder.

Police Capt. William Farrell said an investigation is under way to determine whether the woman died as a result of a fall or whether she may have been beaten.

Uniontown (AP) — Police reported last night R. W. Leclair, a salesman shot and killed his wife and three children—then took his own life.

Mobile Units To Test Cattle For Bangs Disease

Harrisburg (AP)—The state Agriculture Department said yesterday mobile units to dettect Bangs Disease in cattle should be in operation in Pennsylvania by next fall.

Secretary Miles Horst said the Bangs Disease testing service will be made free to cattle owners. The "ring test" is made on a farm-to-farm basis. Bangs Diseases causes abortion in cattle.

Under the "ring test," a composite sample of milk from all cows in the herd is tested by using a preparation known as antigen. If a blue ring appears in the test tube there is a strong possibility that one or more cows in the herd has Bangs Disease. Infected animals then are located through blood tests.

Senator Ferguson 'Thanks' Truman

Washington (AP) — Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said yesterday he thinks President Truman "breathed new life into the corruption in government issue" and that the GOP should "thank him for focussing attention on just how callous the Democratic administration is about the conditions which exist."

Ferguson had reference to a speech the President made Friday night, in which he termed "a gigantic hoax and fraud" Republican contentions that the government "is full of crooks and thieves."

Cyphers Advises Coal Users To Fill Bins At Low Prices

Bakery Workers Strike

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Approximately two-thirds of the bread supply in Pittsburgh and five adjacent counties has been shut off by a strike of 1,800 bakery workers at 36 major wholesale and retail baking firms.

Dealer For 'Old Reading' Anthracite To Withdraw Special Offer On May 15

Claude S. Cyphers, local dealer of "Old Reading" anthracite, 548 Ann St., recommends that you order your coal NOW.

He advises his customers to place their orders now while coal prices are at their lowest for the year. "It's always a nice feeling to approach Winter with a full coal bin," he adds.

When you order your coal now you benefit two ways, Mr. Cyphers points out: You save money and all sizes of coal are available.

His company is now offering special prices on stove, nut and pea coal. Customers who order before the offer expires on May 15 can take advantage of large savings.

Mr. Cyphers is also direct factory dealer for the Diamond T Motor Car Co. and also handles Diamond T school buses in addition to the complete truck line.

Mr. Cyphers pointed out Diamond T school buses are "universally approved for the safety of the pupils and for the safety of the investment!"

When school officials select school buses, they naturally consider utmost safety and lowest operating costs of primary importance. After all, Mr. Cyphers stated, the make that gives them both is obviously the best value for their tax dollers.

On both counts, Mr. Cyphers continued, Diamont T carries the hearty approval of scores of Federal, state, county and municipal purchasing bodies . . . "an approval confirmed by long-time records of hundreds of privately owned Diamond T fleets the country over."

All Diamond T bus chassis conform to every requirement of National school bus standards, but they also offer many important features not available in any other make. In addition to long-lived heavy-duty construction in every part and unit, Diamond T alone provides the "quick-detachable" front fenders for easy accessibility to engine and accessories. Diamond T springs are bushed with live rubber so that no greasing is ever required.

AIDED BY A CREW OF five volunteers, three Stroudsburg State troopers (left) search Paradise Creek north of Analomink Saturday, some 24 hours before the body of Robert O. Fish, 28, Stroudsburg, was found a few miles farther downstream. Trooper in rear of boat is peering through a glass-bottomed box. Man standing on rock behind boat holds a grappling hook. Picture at bottom shows the speed of the creek water as it swirls over submerged rocks, still north of Analomink. Boat was "walked" down the creek. Ropes attached to prow run to crews on the far and near banks, keeping the boat from moving too rapidly. Fish disappeared April 26 about 9:30 after his car ran off Route 90 two miles north of Analomink. He was last seen standing on a rock at the edge of the creek. Story and picture on Page 1. (Daily Record Photos).

Five Injured In Pileup Of Three Cars

Wind Gap—Five persons were injured in a three-car pile-up on Route 115 a mile north of here at 5:30 yesterday.

In the first car was Alfred Ruggiero, 38, Bangor. Following was the car driven by William R. Gracely, 25, Mertztown RD1. Third in line was the sedan operated by Amos T. Kunkelman, 40, Reading.

Brodheadsville State police said the first car slowed and was struck by the car behind—which in turn was struck by the third car in line.

Anna DeCeasare, 35, Roseto, passenger in the first car, was treated by Dr. N. Romano, Bangor, for a head injury. She was driven to the physician's office by a passing motorist.

The other injured persons were all in the Gracely car: Mrs. William Gracely, face injuries; Linda Lou Gracely, 3, and Larry Gracely, 2, nose injuries; and Mrs. Raymond Heiserman, Allentown RD3, face injuries and a possible jaw fracture. All were taken to the Allentown hospital by a Wind Gap ambulance.

Police said damages were $75 to the first car, $350 to the second and $200 to the third—a total of $625. There were not arrests.

Mental Health Clinic Slated

A seminar on the "Problems of Childhood" will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Sunday school rooms of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

The meeting is a part of the Monroe County observance of National Mental Health Week which this year is scheduled from May 4 to May 10 inclusive.

Dr. Paul Morris, psychologist of the Monroe and Northampton County Child Guidance Clinic will be in charge of the meeting which is to be concluded with a discussion period and the showing of a special motion picture, "Angry Boy".

The slogan for the mental health drive this year is "Mental Illness—America's No. 1 Health Problem—Let's Face It So We Can Fight It!"

Monroe County citizens, mental health workers believe, are fortunate in that they are able to take care of their emotionally disturbed children through the Child Guidance Clinic in Easton.

One of the primary functions of the meeting and others like it during the "week" is to acquaint the public with the various kinds of mental illness. The discussions will also offer solutions to a few typical problems and will indicate that the proper time to treat potentially severe mental disorders is in childhood.

The Wednesday night meeting is open to the general public and all those interested in mental health problems, especially as they affect young people, are invited to attend.

The clinic extends a special invitation to all parents, teachers and social agencies who come into contact with children.

Steel Wage Talks Collapse

had been opened by President Truman Saturday. He sternly told both union and management representatives that he wanted them to reach an agreement which would make it possible for the government to relinquish its seizure of the steel mills.

Murray recently styled himself as a man who has never struck against the government. However, in view of the long wait for a new contract it was not considered at all unlikely that Murray might be confronted with limited walkouts in the mills.

The months-long controversy over a new contract has placed the eight billion dollar industry in the center of a momentous legal tussle over which the Supreme Court assumed jurisdiction Saturday.

The nation's steel mills were gearing up toward full production after a three-day strike, but steel workers did not try to conceal their perplexity and disappointment over the on-again, off-again, work and wage situation.

There was elation when Truman said he would raise wages today "or as soon as we can get ready"; and frustration when, seven hours later, the Supreme Court unanimously ordered a wage freeze while the government operates the mills—unless management agrees to a raise.

Should the basic labor dispute be ended first, the mills would be returned to their private owners and the court would probably discard the case as "moot"—that is, no longer a disputed case.

Cars Collide On Route 611

Tannersville—A total of $200 damages were caused in a two-car collision on Route 611 here at 1:45 p. m. yesterday.

Pfc. Joseph Murphy, of the Stroudsburg State police said Jane E. Kadjeski, 18, Scranton student, was driving south behind the car of E. Beulah Coffman, 41, Cresco housewife.

The first car slowed, and the Kadjeski auto struck it in the rear, police said. Damages were $150 to the Kadjeski vehicle and $50 to the rear of the Coffman car. There were no injuries or arrests.

Blooming Dogwood Attracts Thousands Of Motorists

Spring was bustin' out all over yesterday.

The dogwood was in bloom and the greenness of Spring had gradually replaced the last faint signs of Winter.

On the highways, a steady, slow-moving river of traffic brought New Yorkers, New Jerseyites, Ohioans and many other to the Poconos for an early look at this region.

In small towns, local baseball teams went through the motions of practice workouts and actual games. They were largely unattended. Their audiences were busy buying hot dogs, watching cager bears at "bear stops" along the road, pleasure driving in the country or watching a professional game on TV.

The few people who stayed at home spent most of the afternoon on the front or back porch.

Only the luckless who had to work stayed inside.

No Change In Strike Picture

A strike of 86 operating engineers employed by Rochez Bros., East Pittsburgh contractors working on the new Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna will apparently continue this morning.

The engineers, members of the International Union of Operating Engineers, went on strike last Friday following a breakdown of wage negotiations between their business representatives and company officials.

The negotiations had begun after expiration of a contract between company and union on April 30 at midnight.

A union official said Friday night that "no meetings had been scheduled over the weekend".

The strike involving nearly 45 operating engineers who are now working on the construction of the Inter-state bridge across the Delaware River, also, apparently has not been settled.

No date for negotiations had been set between the union and Johnson, Drake and Piper as of Friday night. An official of the union declined to comment last night when asked whether such a meeting had been agreed upon over the weekend.

A Good Job Well Done

Remember a few weeks ago when the Red Cross campaign for $13,500 seemed to be in the doldrums? Remember, too, that at the time Robert Schell, chairman of this year's drive, expressed himself at not being particularly worried?

We note, from Saturday's Daily Record, that the area over-subscribed the quota by $1,500. As Mr. Schell remarked several weeks ago, "the people here have always come through. I have no misgivings about this year's results."

There is an old saying that "nothing succeeds like success." The Daily Record extends heartiest congratulations to "Bob" Schell and his loyal workers for a fine job.

Good News On Oatis

The report of U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs from Czechoslovakia—that William N. Oatis is in good health, is allowed to read and write and gets sufficient exercise—is a nugget of good news.

Mr. Briggs' Wednesday visit with Mr. Oatis was the first by an American official since April 23, 1951, when the Associated Press reporter was thrown into prison by the Red Czechs and falsely charged with spying.

Later, Mr. Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison on the trumped-up charges.

It took the State Department more than a year to talk the Czechoslovak government into letting a U. S. official visit Mr. Oatis.

It's reassuring that that has been accomplished. But let us hope and pray that another year won't elapse before Mr. Oatis is restored to his rightful status—that of a free American.

The Human Touch

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, who gained fame through his patient conduct of the famous Communist trial during which he was constantly heckled by the Reds' lawyers in their efforts to have the case thrown out, has many times drawn popular acclaim by evidence of his very human attitude.

The most recent example of it was last week when, during a session of the already 18-months-old trial of a number of investment concerns in a tedious civil anti-trust suit, he suddenly decided it was time for all hands to go to the ball game.

With a look out the window at the blue skies and bright sun, the learned jurist leaned forward from the bench and benignly suggested to counsel for both sides that it was a fine day for sitting in the ball park to watch the Dodgers and Giants play.

Gaining immediate consent and no objections from either group, Judge Medina named a committee to arrange for seats, and also for a steak dinner after the game.

Court adjourned. And we can only conjecture how much they enjoyed the outing and with what clear minds they renewed the weary legal boxing the next day.

Government's Steel Take

High taxes will keep the government in the steel business, regardless of the outcome of the court battle over the President's right to seize the steel mills.

Last year, for example, the steel industry paid more than one and a quarter-billion dollars in federal income taxes. That's more than four times the amount the stockholders—the owners—took out of the industry.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Is McCarthy a Liar? - Senator Joe McCarthy has answered a large number of questions concerning himself his accusations and his fight in an article for the current issue of "Cosmopolitan" magazine. The questions were asked by friend and foe.

Those who say that Joe McCarthy is a liar base their case generally upon his use of different numbers in different places. His enemies say that the Senator does not know what he is talking about. The Senator answers all questions on that subject. I shall only quote one of five questions and answers about it:

"Would you explain your use of the numbers 205 and 57 in referring to Communists and pro-Communists in the State Department?

"At Wheeling I discussed a letter Secretary of State Byrnes wrote in 1946 to Congressman Adolph Sabath. Byrnes stated that 284 individuals had been declared by the President's loyalty board as unfit to work in the State Department because of Communist activities and for other reasons, but that only 79 had been discharged. This left 205 still on the State Department's pay roll even though the President's own board had declared them unfit for government service.

"In the same speech at Wheeling, I said that while I did not have the names of the 205 referred to in the Byrnes letter, I did have the names of 57 who were 'either members of or loyal to the Communist Party.' Those names were offered to the President in a telegram I sent him the following day. The President instead of accepting the names contented himself with calling me names."

The next serious charge against Joe McCarthy is that he accuses men falsely and on insufficient evidence. Yet a number of persons have been dismissed or have resigned because of his testimony. For instance, John Stewart Service was dismissed; William Remington was convicted; Edward Posniak resigned and was questioned by a Grand Jury; Esther and Stephen Brunauer were suspended; Peveril Meigs was discharged; Hans Lansberg was dismissed; Oliver Edmund Clubb was permitted to resign; Owen Lattimore tripped himself in conflicting evidence before the McCarran Committee.

Many who were not even accused by McCarthy were either dismissed or resigned because of the heat that Senator McCarthy generated.

This matter of McCarthyism is not likely to die down, no matter who is nominated in either party. The question will be asked as to how it happened that spies were able to steal the atom bomb? The question will be asked why the FBI was frozen out of the Manhattan Project and had no authority to do anything about the atom bomb until January 1, 1947? Who ordered the FBI out of this situation?

The question will be asked why Arthur Alexandrovich Adams, top Soviet spy, was not only free to engage in espionage, but free to get away? The question will be asked who authorized Owen Lattimore to have an office in Lauchlin Currie's rooms in the old State Department Building and who permitted him to handle official mail—about which he did not at first remember. Here is what McCarthy says of that:

"In 1950 Lattimore denied this under oath, and the State Department ridicule it. However, a great deal of light is shed on Lattimore's veracity as a result of his cross-examination by the McCarran Committee on this subject.

"In his book, 'Ordeal By Slander,' advertised on its jacket as 'completely honest,' Lattimore wrote: 'I told the newspaperman that Senator McCarthy was crazy if he had got me mixed up with the State Department. I had never been in the State Department.'

"In 1950, in his sworn testimony before the Tydings Committee, Lattimore said: 'I do not have a desk in the State Department. I do not have a telephone there.'

"In 1952, however, Lattimore testifying before the McCarran Committee finally admitted under cross-examination that he did have a desk. Letters were produced, signed by Lattimore, which showed he had regular hours in the office of Lauchlin Currie, also named under oath as a Communist, in the State Deparment building."

There are those who have accused Senator McCarthy of hiding behind Congressional immunity. However, in this "Cosmopolitan" article, McCarthy names names and speaks without Immunity.

The question is not whether McCarthy told the truth; it is rather whether the State Department was infiltrated by a pro-Russian group. As Russia is now our enemy, this is important now.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

George Jessel is reputed to own fourteen toupees, which he wears in rotation, each with a little longer hair than the preceding one. Thus, at the end of a fortnight, it appears that he needs a haircut. He tells his friends he's off to the barber's, then reappears with toupe number one, and the cycle begins all over again. Friends benj on flattering Jessel reserve for their surest bet a line like, "Oh, boy, Georgie, do you need to have those golden locks of yours shorn!" Milton Berle crossed him up at a Friars' Frolics, however, by exclaiming loudly, "Some toupe you've got there, Jessel. I can hardly tell it from a wig!"

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—A major battle between the Federal Reserve Board and the nation's consumer credit dealers is about to land on the doorstep of Congress.

The issue will be over continuation of controls on retail credit buying of major durable goods, such as refrigerators, stoves, household furniture, and automobiles. Under current FRB rules a 15 per cent down payment with a maximum 18-month payof is required for household goods. One-third down is required for automobile purchasing.

The National Foundation for Consumer Credit is prepared to tell the House Banking and Currency committee that FRB controls on credit buying are a fraud. This organization, composed of retail credit dealers of high repute in the business world, says there is an abundance of television sets, radios, bedding, furniture, glassware, carpets and automobiles.

The FRB, with 150 paid sleuths, is attempting to police credit buying in the nation, an impossible task with 1,000 times the 150-man force. And there are indications that even the FRB knows this since hints are being dropped daily that the Reserve Board of Governors is willing to tell the Congressional committee that it will settle for standby credit controls.

Credit merchants consider this as much of a fraud as the controls now actively imposed on their business deals. They insist that standby controls would create even more confusion than exists at the present time. At least now, the argument goes, they know the requirements. If the FRB convinces the House Banking committee that standby rules are necessary, credit merchants maintain that nobody, least of all the consumer, will know when new and higher down payment demands are going to be imposed.

The basic argument against continuation of consumer credit controls beyond June 30, their expiration date under existing law, lies in retail sales statistics from across the nation. The national Foundation for Consumer Credit and Economist William J. Cheyney state that retail buying is lagging and that merchants and manufacturers are being forced to store household items in already overflowing warehouses.

As an example, Cheyney says that there are already two and one-half million refrigerators on hand in retail store outlets. A million more than is normally held. In addition, the industry is geared to produce an estimated five and one-half million more this year, with prospects doubtful of selling four million new units.

There are other examples: in 11 major cities furniture and bedding sales are 10 to 25 per cent below February of 1951; March television and radio, 30 per cent under last year; floor covering manufacturers, 18 per cent. Surveys in New York, Cleveland, Denver, Chicago, Miami, Birmingham, Kansas City, Richmond and Indianapolis show toasters and electric irons, 25 to 50 per cent below the sales level of a year ago; St. Louis Reserve Bank figures show cash sales 20 per cent lower than in January of 1951; credit sales, twelve and one-half per cent.

The House Banking and Currency committee faces a difficult decision. Manufacturers are in trouble in some lines. In Erie, Pa., a G. E. plant manufacturing refrigerators has shut down; in Mansfield, Ohio, Westinghouse has cut back its refrigerator production 40 per cent. The three billion dollar a year wood furniture industry is running at 60 per cent capacity.

The argument to be presented to Congress will dwell on the fact that merchants caught with bulging warehouses, as some already have been, face bankruptcy. Also, unless manufacturing plants can continue to produce, the list of jobless will grow.

Producers of household goods know they are far from a market saturation. Potential demand remains high, but would-be buyers lacking the required high down payment funds are staying away from stores. Credit dealers say their research puts the blame solely on the Federal Reserve Board credit regulations. From the noise coming from the FRB there seems more than a little truth in the argument.

My New York

—By Mel Heimer

New York—It has long been a theory in this odd department that the girls who grow up to be the most feminine of all—really feminine; not the dimpled "Is big strong 'oo goin' to carry weak I'll me across the street?" kind—are the ones who are the most violent tomboys of all in their youth. To support this theory I have hauled forth occasional bright examples like Kate Hepburn, and today I have another one with which to confront you.

Her name is Helen Gallagher; she is dark and grave, with a lovely sense of whimsy, and she is featured in the fine new production of Pal Joey. She plays in the role of Gladys Bumps, which was created in the Gene Kelly version of the show a decade ago by Miss June Havoc, who since has gone on to the bigger and better things in the theater that, too, should await Helen.

When you see Helen onstage these days, even in the happily raucous role of Gladys, there is no doubt in the minds of anyone that Miss Gallagher is all female. She is superbly arranged, in magnificent sections of femininity, and she moves across the stage in her dancing with the feline grace of a ballet dancer—which, astonishingly enough, she is.

Helen plays a blackmailing gold-digger, wide-eyed and hilariously evil, and you would be surprised at the number of men who see her and leave the theater thinking they wouldn't at all mind being black-mailed by her.

If you knew Helen as a girl, you might be nonplussed. For when she was from 6 to 11, she was the terror of Richardson avenue.

Richardson Avenue is a street in the northeast Bronx, a section that still is notable chiefly because Bruno Richard Hauptmann lived there in the days when he did or did not kidnap the Lindbergh baby.

"As a section, I guess you would call it middle-class poor," The candid Helen told me today over breakfast in Rumpelmayer's, in the St. Moritz. "And as for the Gallaghers—I guess we were poor class poor."

There didn't seem to be any other girls in the block. Maybe this is how tomboys are born. Whatever the reason, the thin, occasionally ailing Helen took up with the gang of amiable young ruffians that contained her brother Charles, two years older.

There must have been 11 to 13 of them—and that day never went by that all these boy-type marauders didn't go swooping through the northeast Bronx, accompanied by their small-fry Calamity Jane.

That was a long time ago and Miss Helen no longer goes whooping around the streets of the Bronx in company with 15 males—but she looks back on it now and wouldn't change it for the world.

Maybe the Freudians can explain tomboys more completely than I, but I have two simple and I think, easily-understandable explanations: (1) they are girls who have independence of mind and don't like to be stampeded into assembly-line femininity, and (2) they like boys better than girls. This last explanation makes enormous sense.

Shall we say that Merlene Dietrich is th eembodiment of all that is seductive, alluring and charming in womanhood? Yes, we shall. And I get you a stogie, as Ed Durling does, that Marlene would rather be in the company of men any day.

Aside from being a grown-up tomboy, Miss Gallagher is a frequently shy girl, who did a fantastic deadpan tango in High Button Shoes some seasons ago that will live in theatrical memory along with Barrymore's Hamlet and Bert Lahr's woodman who chopped, chopped, chopped.

Like so many song-and-dance children, Helen hopes one day to be a serious—and good—actress. She thinks Arthur Kennedy's the greatest of all talents, as most right-thinking souls do, and she wears dresses now instead of overalls. The dresses fit handsomely and there is no serious doubt, as you see her in them, that she is a woman.

WAKING UP AMERICA

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

A young Harvard graduate gave me a lesson in juvenile psychology last Saturday.

This chap had come out into the country for the weekend to visit his mother, as he does almost every weekend.

He has an apartment in New York City, wears nice clothes, and is an all-around man of the world.

I am not acquainted with his Monday-to-Friday diet, but I DO know that Friday nights, Saturdays and Sundays he gets the best of everything in the culinary line. I have eaten at his house.

The fellow, as I said, had come out to his mother's house as usual and was dolling up for a party to which he was going in the evening.

It seems that one of the posts had rotted away, or something, and the gate wouldn't stand up.

Reluctantly he went out into the yard to see what was wrong with the d--n thing.

I happened to pass by the place just then.

"Hello, Jim," I said. "I see you are making yourself useful."

"Yea," he replied, "I guess I'm cheap labor."

I didn't answer him at the time. We talked about other things, about Spring in the country and life in New York and so forth.

But when I got home I started to ponder.

I was wondering how many modern kids consider themselves "cheap labor" when their parents ask them to do something.

Come to think about it, many times when I was a youngster I resented my father or mother asking ME to do something around the house or to run an errand for them.

Cheap labor, they consider me, I thought.

Now let's see how cheap this young Harvard man's labor really is.

His father died some years ago. Since then his mother, a business woman, had reared him.

With her own little inheritance and her business income she had managed to send him to Harvard, to pay for his tuition, his board, his fraternity dues, his clothes, and the various extramural complications into which he got himself.

She bought him an automobile and paid for its upkeep.

He was very sick for a while. So she paid his hospital bills and his doctor bills and all the other expenses one incurs when sickness strikes.

And not only that. She worried at least twenty pounds off herself over the kid, and she lived almost her entire life for him.

She kept up a lovely home primarily for HIM, and she looked forward to every weekend when he would spend a few hours with her.

And even then she didn't see too much of him. There were all kinds of parties he'd "have to go to," and that cost HER money. (He is at present engaged in a so-called business enterprise with what he calls "a future." At present it's only an expense—and that means money out of HER pocket.)

The way I figure it, this mother could have saved herself a lot of money if she had hired outside labor at $100.00 an hour.

But that isn't the way mothers do it.

The Real News Newsreel

Keith, Funston, boss man of the New York Stock Exchange, points out that the money bet on horse races in this country last year would have been enough to supply two-thirds of all the dough raised by American business corporations through selling shares. We are not sure what Keith is trying to prove, unless it is that more corporation chiefs should go to the post on horseback, wearing definite stable colors . . . But we have always believed that stock market daily handicap and scratch sheets would be helpful, since their lure has been so successful at race tracks . . . We would like to know who's up on an investment, what he did last time out, whether he is trying, etc . . . And a lot of folks who are being drawn to the races would switch to the investment markets if they could get daily selections and comment, viz:

U. S. Steel . . . Changed hands recently.

A. T. & T. . . . Champ in field; always well up.

Union Carbide . . . Some good performances.

American Cyanide . . . Good last summer; shows little now.

General Motors . . . Off form of late.

Chrysler . . . Erratic; can surprise.

Newmont Mining . . . Will bear watching.

Sears Roebuck . . . Not persevered with.

And we are informed by Shudda Haddim, a well-known racing enthusiast, that one reason he sticks to the ponies is the fact that, despite all the hazards, he has never seen a horse go to the post with the words on his saddlecloth, "While the information on this skinner has been obtained from sources believed to be reliable, we do not guarantee them. No statement on his value, ability prospects, etc., or hint regarding his chances to come down in telephone numbers, is to be construed as an offer to accept bets."

Well, President Truman wasn't in the steel business much longer than he was in the haberdashery business . . . Scratched off as a favorite vacation spot by the Democrats since that steel case decision is the Isle of Pines . . . And at least temporarily sidetracked in the White House is the recording "I'll Be SEIZING You In All The Old Familiar Places." . . . Russians riddled a French passenger plane with bullets the other day . . . Anything to prove Moscow's peaceful intentions as against the warlike behavior of the helpless and unarmed . . . An "Ikeburger Sandwich" has now appeared in lunchrooms . . . (Plenty hot, of course, with the main ingredients tiger meat, chili, victory garden onion, snap beans and plenty of mustard.) . . . You could have knocked us over with a feather this week when we found Justice Bill Douglas on the opposite side from Justices Frankfurter and Black in a high court decision . . . It occurred in the matter of time off from school for religion, and it looked to us as if Bill was playing hookey from the dissenters for his own spiritual good . . . In a matter of speaking, Judge Pine seized Truman.

Hollywood

Hollywood — Esther Williams' latest swim-dance-and-song spectacle, "Skirts Ahoy!" is weak in plot but strong on specialty numbers. The best is an underwater swimming routine by Esther and a couple of youngsters, Russell and Kathy Tongay.

Russell, 5, and his 4-year-old sister perform an array of stunts with Miss Williams, Joan Evans, and Vivian Blaine. Esther chases a handsome Navy doctor, Barry Sullivan, who'd rather do the chasing himself.

Joan quarrels with Keefe Brasselle, who left her at the altar but is now repentant. Vivian Blaine, who wins the acting honors, yells in strident Brooklynese at an elusive sailor lover, Dean Miller. Chipping in on the song and/or dance numbers are the five De Marco Sisters and Billy Eckstine. Debbie Reynolds and Keenan Wynn make an unbilled USO-style appearance.

"Bronco Buster" is an up-to-date Western about the daredevil cowboys who compete in rodeos. Including exciting color shots of action at Cheyenne, Phoenix, and Los Angeles rodeos, it concentrates smartly on the hair-raising heroics of its cowboys more than on its slender plot.

John Lund is a champ rider, Scott Brady is a talented newcomer whose quick success goes to his head. They compete for Joyce Holden's love while Chill Wills, as a rodeo clown, provides fun and wise counsel. Director Budd Boetticher has crammed in much of the arena excitement that won him prominence with "The Bullfighter and the Lady."

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, there's certainly no sense talking about the weekend's weather since each of you was absorbing it in your own way—storing it up for all the weeks to come.

No sense talking about the Music Club concert either, since most of you heard it—or about the concerts you're going to this week, since you know very well what you want to do.

Elaine Layton's wedding is fully covered in another story—but there's a story behind that, too, which you might not know. It's a story that goes back 200 years to another May-time, when Nicholas DePul, first settler in the Shawnee section laid the cornerstone of the first church—up on the hill overlooking the river.

Little did he imagine, I presume, that on that site, in May, 1952, a child of his blood, nine generations later, would be married. Haven't figured out how many great-great-great's that would be.

But just now, when the lilacs we planted on Mother's Day 11 years ago are just coming into bloom again, I can sort of dream that generations from now, they might deck the wedding table of some great-great-granddaughter.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

From where I stood, I could see the straw-thatched young man with the large blue eyes rather well. Standing at the Tea Room telephone, he was wearing a tan shirt open at the neck, and a brown sport jacket with a small, rather inconspicuous pattern. He appeared just as good natured as his famous voice sounded over the wire.

"I'm here as the guest of Fred Waring," Sterling Holloway was saying. "He's a good friend of mine, and I try to get here often. I really came for the opening of Shawnee Inn and to see the dogwood."

"How do you like our beautiful Pocono mountains?" I asked.

"Oh, I love this section. And I love this store." For a moment he paused as though I'd contradicted him, and then continued, "I really do. I never miss coming in when I'm here. I was in yesterday too. As a matter of fact, we were just talking about it. I was telling the others that I'd never seen such a complete store." He smiled amiably as he added, "I was wondering if there isn't a landing place for helicopters on the roof. You seem to have everything else."

"That's a fine compliment for Wyckoff's, Mr. Holloway. Thank you. But why don't you come here to live? We'd love having you."

"It's a good idea," he agreed, "but I'm in Hollywood most of the time. Of course, I've just been in a play in New York, and I'm returning there today to make more children's records. For the past year I've been with the Walt Disney studios, doing most of the narration for the Disney shorts. My last big picture was 'Alice in Wonderland.' I was the Cheshire cat." (Mr. Holloway was also narrator of "Peter and the Wolf" and "Lambert the Lion," both on film and record. The latter will be available to his juvenile fans in about a week, he thinks.) "Records now to be cut for Decca are 'The Little House' and 'The Blue Coupe'."

"C-o-o-p?" I asked.

"No . . . C-O-U-P-E—it's an AUTO-biography."

Veteran of many movies, Holloway is as familiar to most of us as apple pie. His trademarks are a tricky voice, a bobbing Adam's apple, and the shock of blond hair that stands on end in the same awed way his wide eyes look upon life. Feeling somewhat like a Peeping Tom, I finally said, "I can see you from where I stand. I'm over here in stationery —the one in the yellow coat."

The blue eyes spotted me then and a brown-clad arm shot into the air. Forgetting the phone, Mr. Holloway looked out and called, "Hi!" It was a greeting to all Monroe Countians who have long known and admired him.

But an Important Milepost With a Meaning!

May 5, 1952

...historic date when Printers observe the One Hundredth Anniversary of the

INTERNATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION

A Remarkable Record of Consistent Service To Every Person in This Community:

1850—A convention of journeyman printers from Typographical Societies in six states met in New York to consider forming a national union.

1851—Delegates met in Baltimore, set up a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws for the proposed national printers' union "for the relief and benefit of the craft."

1852—On May 5, the I.T.U. was born at Cincinnati, Ohio, by adoption of this resolution: "The stipulations of the late national convention having been complied with, the National Typographical Union is hereby declared organized."

1853—Full financial reports of receipts and expenditures began, continued without interruption since. —Convention adopted bargaining policy: "The National Union regards as injudicious a frequent resort to strikes, believing that in most cases differences can be settled by more amicable means."

1857—New Orleans convention considered a proposal for "establishment of a union printers' home for those members who have grown old in the art."

1858—Opened membership to receive printing pressmen after many such craftsmen expressed a desire for organization as part of the printing industry.

1859—Convention gave favorable support to the policy of contracts with employers "after first having invited a conference with employers."— Union pioneered in giving consideration to fight against tuberculosis and "the exposure of its members to diseases of the respiratory organs."

1860—Accepted membership of all employers who were practical printers, qualified as journeymen, and who wanted to join with their employees in the union.

1862—Convention criticized the secretary-treasurer for calling off the convention scheduled in 1861, for such a minor reason as a war between the states; instructed the president to send a letter to all southern unions "assuring them of our continued good will and fellowship."

1863—Criticized the "paper trust" for increasing paper prices, and petitioned Congress to remove from paper the "duty now charged and regulated by laws."

1864—Resolved that "monopoly of the telegraph dispatches" by the Associated Press "is hurtful to the craft and a direct infringement of the liberty of the press." —Accepted membership of, and bargained for wages for, proofreaders and stereotypers working in union shops.

1865—First proposed an eight-hour day, although most craftsmen were working ten, eleven and twelve hours and many members were paid on "piece-work" basis.

1866—Began 43-year struggle to secure copyright law which would protect American craftsmen from competition with cheaper European labor.

1869—Opened membership to women, required equal pay for equal work and barred discrimination against them. —Resolved that printers should be hired "solely on account of competency, and not for religious or political views they may entertain." —Name changed to International Typographical Union after affiliation of Canadian unions, paving the way for real friendship between Canada and the United States.

1870—Miss Augusta Lewis of New York elected corresponding secretary, the first woman to be chosen as an officer of a national or international union.

1872—Launched long campaign for repeal of the conspiracy laws of the various states, under which labor organizations were subjected to persecution. —Began chartering separate unions of printing pressmen in cities where such members desired separate charters.

1873—Birth of principles of the Fair Practices Act; Union insisted each publisher have newspaper set or reproduced in type by his own employees; men were furnished for a varying volume of work at no loss of time nor extra expense to publishers; fair practice principles still in effect, fully justified by eighty-year experience.

1876—Convention took first action to abolish sub-lists, and opened the way for a plan of priority now accepted and used throughout most industries.

1877—Local Unions provided relief funds, shared work, when great depression forced newspaper suspensions, business bankruptcies, wage reductions, widespread unemployment, and unregulated apprenticeship problems.

1879—International Typographical Union started action to organize the American Federation of Labor, instructing secretary to contact other national and international unions; also instructed local unions to "cooperate with other trades unions" at the local level "for united action."

1881—Federation of Trades and Labor Unions formed at convention called by Typographical Union delegates; announced platform demands for compulsory education of children, opposing employment of children under the age of fourteen, favoring an eight-hour day, opposing competition of prison and foreign labor, and requiring wages to be paid in lawful currency.

1885—Stereotyper and electrotyper members given local union charters in cities where such members desired separate local unions. —Monotype process patented, producing type from perforated paper punched from keyboard; journeyman printers learned and have operated such machines, without any question of jurisdiction, for more than sixty years.

1886—International Typographical Union adopted a Union Label "so that the product of union labor may be readily known by purchasers, and the demand for publications friendly to the cause of organized workingmen may be encouraged."

1887—Maintained autonomy of international unions, announcing "the International Typographical Union would not acknowledge allegiance to nor recognize the supremacy of any other organization," would affiliate with but would not apply for nor accept a charter from the American Federation of Labor or any other organization. —I.T.U. issued charters to bookbinder members who wanted to form separate local unions.

1889—Required all amendments to constitution and all proposals to increase dues or assessments to be submitted to referendum of local union members. —Publication of The Typographical Journal started.

1890—Union Printers Home at Colorado Springs authorized and board of trustees chosen to arrange for erection of main building. —Introduction of Linotype machine brought resolution: "The principal factor in the economic operation of typesetting machinery is the employment of highly skilled and intelligent labor."

1891—International Typographical Union adopted plan for burial fund, now known as the Mortuary Fund, beginning a new epoch in fraternal benefits for members. —First authorized strike for nine-hour day in Pittsburgh by commercial printers and pressmen; I.T.U. members vote voluntary assessment to assist Pittsburgh members. Employers organized association to oppose Union, secured first injunction to prohibit picketing or speaking to strikebreakers; organized labor staged huge parade in protest against use of new strikebreaking weapon, the injunction, by government agency.

1892—Union Printers Home formally opened for reception of residents, and for sixty years the I.T.U. has provided this home and hospital for afflicted, aged and infirm printers. —Two thousand pressmen members seceded and formed their own international union. —I.T.U. authorized membership for mailers and news writers.

1893—Convention provided for initiation of new laws by petitions from local unions as a further step in guaranteeing democratic rule of the Union. —By referendum of members of both organizations, the German-American Typographia united with the International Typographical Union.

1894—By resolution adopted in referendum, members asked Congress for the "abolition of monopoly privilege of issuing money by individuals and corporations, and substituting therefor a system of direct issuance to and by the people."

1896—Bookbinder members, by agreement and with the assistance of the International Typographical Union, formally established their own international union. —Convention adopted provision for electing all I.T.U. officers by popular vote of the membership.

1898—Convention adopted law to discourage and prevent outlaw strikes, by withholding benefits unless strike or lockout is authorized by the Executive Council.

1899—Established nine-hour day, six-day week by contract with commercial printing employers after many months of collective bargaining. —Organized all Linotype machinists and machine tenders working in composing rooms; required such employment to be given to competent members of the Union.

1900—Instructed the president to notify the American Federation of Labor that the I.T.U. "is not in position to arbitrate its own laws" as to jurisdiction over composing room work claimed by other crafts.

1901—First of a series of International Arbitration Agreements with newspaper publishers adopted by referendum; system continued 21 years, then replaced by voluntary arbitration.

1902—Golden Anniversary showed a total membership of 38,364, with 559 local unions. —Women's International Auxiliary organized.

1903—By agreement with the International Typographical Union, stereotyper and electrotyper members established their own international union.

1904—International Typographical Union locals of photo-engraver members were assisted in forming the International Photo-Engravers Union.

1906—Members in commercial printing shops struck for an eight-hour day, and carried it to successful conclusion against employers' open-shop movement.

1907—Adopted a voluntary plan of "I.T.U. Course of Instruction in Printing," offered by the Inland Printer Technical School of Chicago.

1908—Established a Pension Fund by special assessment based upon a percentage of earnings, the model for the social security plan and for most industrial pension plans.

1909—Manufacturing clause in U. S. copyright law adopted after 43-year agitation by the International Typographical Union to protect American labor from substandard foreign competition on matter protected by our copyright law.

1910—Referendum of membership adopted policy of discouraging and opposing piece-work, bonus for extra production, and sweatshop conditions.

1911—Joined with other crafts in forming International Allied Printing Trades Association, assigned title of Allied Label to joint ownership of affiliated crafts, provided voluntary cooperative action.

1912—The I.T.U. took over the Inland Printer Technical School Course of Lessons in Printing as a continuation of its apprentice training policy.

1914—Authorized sending delegates to Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, after it separated from the American Federation of Labor by agreement. Represented at every session since that time.

1916—Made ten-year arbitration agreement with commercial printing employers, but neither employers nor printers ever used arbitration during the life of the agreement.

1917—International Typographical Union guaranteed protection of jobs and priority for its 7,343 members who entered military service of Canada and the United States.

1919—Negotiated international agreement with commercial printing employers for a 44-hour week, which employers repudiated on the day it was to become effective.

1921—Commercial printers struck to enforce the 44-hour agreement made with employers in 1919; weekly half-holiday won, pattern for all crafts.

1922—Began free collective bargaining without previous arbitration commitment by either party, since record of 21-year experience proved complete freedom necessary to successful negotiation.

1930—Union survived greatest economic depression in history by sound principles and practical approach to problems, shared work and created unemployment funds, set a pattern for others.

1933—Began a five-day week at expense of members only; later federal law helped other workers get the five-day week; reduced earnings were offset by sound bargaining and cooperative practices.

1935—Wagner Act seldom used by union printers. I.T.U. gave aid to newly organized locals. —Urged American Federation of Labor to organize millions of workers in mass production industries.

1937—International Typographical Union refused to be assessed by the A. F. of L. to fight industrial organization, holding fast to the policy adopted in 1882 and reiterated in 1887 and 1900 asserting its autonomy.

1939—Tolerated suspension from American Federation of Labor for non-payment of the unauthorized assessment to create a fund for war against industrial unions.

1944—Accepted re-affiliation on same basis as in 1881, after A. F. of L. adopted policy: "International unions have complete authority to regulate the conduct of their officers and members, and to control the use of their funds and properties."

1947—International Typographical Union refused to accept any of the alleged benefits of the Taft-Hartley Act, holding fast to time-tested, sound principles of free collective bargaining, unhampered by governmental bureaucracy or other outside interference.

1952—Its 89,659 members still hold to the 100-year-old principles and practices which have made the International Typographical Union a great social force for progress and betterment, as well as the oldest and most democratic trade union in the world.

Tulsa Chorus Praised By Fred Waring

Fred Waring, famed chorus and orchestra conductor, has this to say about the University of Tulsa Chorus which will present a concert tomorrow night in East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Auditorium:

"The University of Tulsa Chorus is one of the finest groups of college singers in the country today. One of the things that I like best about them is the kind of programs that they perform. They go all out to give their audiences an evening of real pleasure with music."

"Many college and university choruses stick too closely to one kind of music. That's all right to demonstrate specialization in performance and to show how learned the conductor is—but it's usually tough on the great majority of the audience who come for entertainment—not instruction.

"Arthur Hestwood, director of the Tulsa Chorus, is one of the many 'alumni' of the Pennsylvanians who are now teaching music in schools and colleges. He is an excellent musician, knows how to train his groups well and build good programs for them. I have just heard three recordings made by the group that is coming to Stroudsburg and they are really good. I'm surely going to be on hand Tuesday night to hear them in person. This concert is a must for everyone who enjoys good singing."

The recordings mentioned will be played on Toni Spaulding's WVPO program at 11:30 tomorrow morning, with Tom Waring acting as assisting disc jockey.

Three Weeks Crammed Into Seven Days

Don't look now but this week is actually three weeks in Monroe County.

The "weeks" in this case are the designated dates for the observance of certain things in our daily lives.

For one thing, of course, all three "weeks" appear under the auspices of official proclamation in one form or another.

The burgesses of Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Mount Pocono and Delaware Water Gap for example, have joined together in proclaiming this seven-day period (which began yesterday) as "Be Kind To Animals" week. Score one for the SPCA.

The burgesses of the two boroughs, meanwhile, have also given the nod to this same seven-day period as "National Music Week" in this area. Here the Monroe Music Club entered the picture with a county-wide concert last night at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church featuring sacred music and enlisting the talents of baritone Roy Wilde.

Bringing up the rear on the list in order of appearance (not necessarily in importance) is National Mental Health Week which is commemorated on the same dates —May 4 to May 10 inclusive.

Free Booklet Tells How Deaf Hear Again With Startling Clarity, Ease

CHICAGO (Special)—New hope for the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing was voiced by a noted Chicago acoustical scientist.

He reported that through the miracle of modern electronics it is now possible to overcome deafness even if the loss is severe.

He demonstrated how the deaf can hear again with a clarity and ease they never dreamed possible.

According to this electronic engineer, Mr. Sam Posen of Beltone, "the longer a hearing loss is neglected, the harder it is to recapture certain speech sounds and understand them."

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with what may be done to help the deaf hear again with miraculous clarity, full authoritative details about deafness and how to overcome it are described in an informative, new, illustrated booklet, which will be sent in a plain wrapper without any cost or obligation.

To obtain your free copy, simply send your request to: Electronic Research Director, Dept. [illegible] Beltone Hearing Aid Co., 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill. A postcard will do. —Adv.

Welcome as May

Unless the weatherman double-crosses us, we're going to enjoy some real coats-off weather soon. And the warmer it gets, the more welcome is a glass of cool, refreshing Schaefer Beer.

Here's something interesting about the Schaefer you drink today. We started brewing it when you were still bundled up in winter clothes. Beer of Schaefer quality has to be ripened over a long "lagering," or aging, period. Schaefer realized the value of lagering back in 1842. In fact, we are the oldest brewers of lager beer in the U. S.

So your Schaefer beer has over a century of tradition behind it. That's why—though it is light and clear as a modern brew should be—it has character and true beer flavor.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Elmer Christine, Monroe County's district attorney, is very interested in forming a bowling league for the youth of the area, in an effort to combat all types of juvenile delinquency next winter. Christine, well known in local sports circles, made his feelings public as the guest speaker at the Record Major League bowling banquet at the Thomas P. Lambert Veterans of Foreign Wars Post on Saturday. Bob Weisenflue, circuit president, did a fine job of running the affair, both as a banquet and later a business meeting.

Weisenflue was reelected to another term as president, as was Ralph "Pete" Arnold, league secretary. Dick Andress was elected to replace Gail "Doc" Fegley as vice president. Speaking of Fegley brings to mind the fact that the local softball star and Little League manager was responsible for starting the Little League form of baseball in Freeland this year. Fegley, an eye doctor, has an office in that town and wherever "Doc" is located, there is bound to be an interest in athletics.

Speaking of Little League baseball makes this the proper spot to mention that the Stroudsburg Little League will hold its initial tryouts of the season today, at the Stroudsburg Playground. The word making the rounds indicates that officials of the circuit expect more than 100 candidates for the four teams. The new Stroudsburg Little League field, so I'm told, will be ready for the first game of the regular season.

Harold Storm had five birdies on the first nine holes at Glen Brook Country Club last week. Jake James must credit brother Jessie for an assist on that spectacular 27 the former shot at Mountain Manor recently. Jake was forced to purchase a new putter this spring, when he discovered, not one, but two of his old standbys missing. Brother Jessie had borrowed them to do some indoor putting and had been a little slow in returning the two clubs. However, after shooting a 27, I imagine all is forgiven.

Bill Pope, former right fielder and first baseman for the Stroudsburg Poconos, having played here in the final year of the North Atlantic League, 1950, was in town over the weekend. Pope is a member of Uncle Sam's Navy and is now stationed in Philadelphia. Ray Davies, former soccer star at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and coach at Coolbaugh High, is home on leave as a captain in the army. The East Stroudsburg resident is also a former athletic great at Tobyhanna Township High school.

Jake Nittle, probably the outstanding bowler in Monroe County, hasn't missed a match in 16 years with the Record Major League. If my memory serves me correctly, I believe this column was informed some time ago that Nittel also has a perfect attendance record in 13 years with the Delaware Valley League, despite the difficult transportation problems that arise from time to time. There were several practice games among Pocono Mountains League teams yesterday, but the rivals begin playing for keeps next Sunday.

John Polzer, center fielder for Stockertown, is a star member of the baseball, football and wrestling teams at Blair Academy. Bob Schick, veteran diamond figure in Monroe County, is field captain of Pocono A.C. this season. Schick formerly played with the Stroudsburg Poconos, in the NAL, and also saw action with various teams in the Pocono Mountains League. Harold Freeman's grandfather, Milt Freeman, was an outstanding pitcher in this regon in the past, so this column was informed recently.

Harold Freeman is currently holding down center field for Pocono A.C. at this early portion of the 1952 Blue Mountain League flag race. The roof of the grandstand at the Stockertown field was blown off by last fall's terrific rain and wind storm. Other portions of the stands were also damaged by the storm. The Blue Mountain League this season is virtually flooded with former North Atlantic League diamond talent and several transfers from the Tri-County League.

Bob Christenberry's appearance as featured speaker at Stroudsburg High's Varsity "S" club banquet should result in one of the all-time high spots in local athletics. The New York State Boxing Commissioner is the center of all eyes, throughout the nation, in his torrid battle to rid the boxing game of the scum that has dominated the ring sport in recent years. Those people able to attend the affair should consider themselves very fortunate indeed. This column is only one of many solidly behind New York's new ring boss.

Little League To Drill

Stroudsburg's Little League will hold its first baseball tryouts of the season today, at Stroudsburg Playground. The drill session is scheduled to open promptly at 6 p.m.

Pocono A.C. Rolls Over Stockertown In Opener, 14-5

Schaller, Shick Lead Plate Attack

Stockertown — Pocono A. C. opened the seventh annual Blue Mountain League pennant dash with a convincing 14-5 victory over Stockertown here yesterday, on the losing organization's home field, before a small crowd. A big six-run sixth inning took all doubt out of the game, as the Monroe County club finished as top-dog in the three-hour marathon.

Chet Luckl turned in a good job of relief pitching for the winning aggregation, while Dick Schaller and Bob Schick paced the winning attack, each with three safeties in five trips to the plate. Included in Schaller's output was a 320-foot home run over the right field fence, with the bases empty, in the fifth round.

Tie Score

Andy Unger opened on the hill for Stockertown and was touched for a single run in the top of the first. However, Stockertown came back to even the count in its half of the first frame on Redge "Lefty" Flanagan and then went ahead briefly in the second with three runs.

However, the visiting unit caught up with Unger in the third and tied the count with three markers. Pocono A. C. moved out in front in the fourth for keeps, by scoring one time.

The visiting club picked up another singleton in the fifth on Schaller's circuit blow and then put the game on ice with six markers in the sixth, when a total of 12 batters went to the plate. The Schoonovermen picked up additional singletons in the seventh and eighth for good measure.

Luckl gave up his only run in the seventh, when a pair of walks, a single and an error caused all the damage.

Tatamy Takes Measure Of West Bangor

Tatamy—Tatamy, featuring the new 1952 look, opened the Blue Mountain League campaign with a comfortable 10-4 victory over West Bangor yesterday, here on the winning club's home grounds. The winning team went out in front in the first inning and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance.

Featuring several new faces in the starting lineup, the home club jumped off with three counters in the first off Nin Fischer, starting West Bangor hurler, and then came back with two more in the bottom of the third.

Three More

The Tatamy offensive picked up three more counters in the sixth, before West Bangor could pick up two tallies in each of the seventh and eighth rounds. Tatamy came back with two runs in the bottom of the eighth to make doubly certain of victory.

Walter Kostenbader worked the entire distance on the hill for Tatamy, while Williams relieved Fischer for the West Bangor club.

Tatamy banged out 16 base hits and used four West Bangor errors to good advantage in notching the opening day victory.

Christenberry To Speak At Annual Varsity "S" Banquet

Robert Christenberry, director of the New York Athletic Commission, has agreed to speak to the Stroudsburg High Varsity "S" club and its guests at the organization's annual banquet to be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel in the very near future.

The banquet was originally scheduled for Wednesday, May 12, but the date had to be changed to fit in with Christenberry's plans, it was announced last night by T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, director of athletics at Stroudsburg High.

Christenberry, a part-time resident of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, is currently in the middle of a bitter battle to clean up boxing in the Empire State. The new boxing commissioner has made great strides toward cleaning up the sport which has become overrun with filth during the last few years.

The Varsity "S" Club was formed a year ago at the Curtis Testimonial and this is the organization's first banquet since that time.

Christenberry was the number one choice of all the club heads to speak at this year's banquet.

Hill Gail Has Chance To Be Ninth Winner Of Triple Crown

By John Chandler

Louisville, Ky., (AP)—Now that the Calumet Farm's classy Hill Gail has the Kentucky Derby safely stowed away, the big question in this blue grass country today is whether or not he can become the ninth horse to sweep racing's triple crown.

The $75,000-added Preakness Stakes, second jewel in the crown, comes off May 17 in Baltimore, with the final jewel—the $100,000-added Belmont Stakes—in New York June 7.

Argument

No sooner had Eddie Arcaro steered Hill Gail's nose under the wire a two-length winner over Dixiana's Sub Fleet Saturday at Churchill Downs than the arguments started.

The Preakness at Pimlico, where it seems around 10 or 12 horses will start, is over a mile and three sixteenths route, compared with the longer mile and one quarter of the Derby.

Hill Gail showed with his speed he could handle 15 others in the Derby.

East Bangor Runs Over Johnsonville

Johnsonville— East Bangor, defending regular season Blue Mountain League champion, swamped Johnsonville in the opening game of the 1952 campaign for both teams yesterday, 20-1, here on the losing club's home field. The game was limited to seven innings by mutual agreement.

Mace Barnhardt pitched a one-hit contest for East Bangor, but the lone safety was a home run by Peter Polisky in the sixth inning.

No Contest

Other than the four bagger by Polisky, the entire afternoon was devoted to East Bangor scoring, as the visiting nine counted in all but the third and fifth frames.

East Bangor opened with three in the first and four in the second, followed with one in the fourth and then wound up hostilities with six in the sixth and the same number in the seventh and final frame.

ESSTC Trips Ithaca College In Track, 65-61

Ithaca, N. Y. —East Stroudsburg State Teachers College came from behind in the final event, the broad jump, here on Saturday to take the measure of Ithaca College, 65-61, in a track and field meet held on the losing school's home grounds.

ESSTC after watching an early lead fade, was faced with a three-point deficit going into the broad jump and needed nothing less than a first and second place to bring home the bacon.

Don Lewis and Bob Williams combined for the needed first and second points to give the charges of Coach Howard DeNike their initial victory of the present campaign to go with the same number of victories.

Leap

Lewis won the event with a leap of 20 feet, one and one-quarter inches.

Bill Jackson, Negro star from Ithaca, was the only triple winner in the meet, bagging top laurels in the 220-yard low hurdles, the 120-yard high hurdles and in the high jump.

Mark Nejako won both the half-mile and mile runs for ESSTC and was giving it a good try for three victories when fatigue forced the ever-trying distance man out of the two-mile run.

Reds Capture Pair From Phils

Cincinnati (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds managed to hold on for 5 to 4 and 8 to 7 victories over the Philadelphia Phils yesterday. The twin triumphs, coupled with New York's defeat of Chicago, boosted the Reds into third place in the National League.

The pitching hero of both games was Frank Smith.

Relief

In the opener he came to the rescue of Herman Wehmeier in the ninth with the tieing and winning runs on base and fanned Del Ennis to end the game. In the nightcap he had to save the game for Harry Perkowski by getting Ennis to end the eighth inning and then retiring the Phils in the ninth without allowing a hit.

The Reds clubbed Curt Simmons out of the box in the first game to give the young southpaw, recently returned from the army, his first defeat. Ewell Blackwell got credit for the Cincinnati triumph-his first of the season-although he had to have help from Wehmeier and then Smith.

Tobyhanna Bows To Daleville In First Game Of Season, 10-7

Daleville—Tobyhanna, a new entry in the Pocono Mountains Association, launched the 1952 season on a losing note here yesterday, bowing before Daleville, 10-7, on the winning team's home diamond.

The newly formed Tobyhanna A. C. contingent waged an uphill battle in the late innings, but was unable to catch Daleville, as the home club added to its early advantage in the late frames.

Big Innings

Daleville touched Karl Henning for four runs in the bottom of the second and was headed only once briefly after that time.

Tobyhanna picked up one run in the fourth and went ahead 5-4 with four markers in the sixth. However, Daleville picked up three in the bottom of the sixth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth which proved to be more than enough needed to win.

Tobyhanna plays at home on the Coolbaugh High field next Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., with Gouldsboro providing the opposition.

Portland Trips Roseto In Overtime, 7-6

Portland—Portland's revitalized entry in the Blue Mountain League opened the 1952 campaign with a 7-6 victory yesterday in an 11-inning struggle with Roseto, much to the delight of a large home crowd. However, the Apollos had to come from behind in the last inning, with two out, to turn the tide of battle.

The home-club blasted Glen Raph for four runs in the first, but it was only enough to match the four-run assault on Al Stull in the first half of the same frame, by Roseto.

Roseto broke a string of six scoreless innings in the top of the eighth, when Manager Nick D'-Allesandro's club pushed two runners into pay dirt.

Big Blow

However, Randall "Bish" Ott blasted a 350-foot home run over the left field fence in the bottom of the ninth, with one mate aboard, to give his forces an 8-8 tie at the end of regulation time.

Neither team was able to score in the 10th and Roseto went down without a run in the second overtime session. However, Portland pulled the game out of the fire in the bottom of the 11th stanza.

George Jackson, second and winning Portland pitcher, opened the frame with a walk and was sacrificed to second by Frank Sharp. Ed O'Rourke popped out, but Bob Trippanera doubled the winning run across the plate. There were two out when the winning run scored.

Roseto had nine hits and Portland eight, but Roseto committed two errors and the Apollos booted only one chance.

New Jersey Entry Wins First Feature At West End Speedway

Gilbert—A reported crowd of 1,200 people watched Lewis Hahn, one of New Jersey's stock car chauffers, take the first feature event of the present season here at the West End Speedway, as 22 other entries failed in their bid for the top prize.

Second place in the feature event went to Ferman Purcell Jr., fellow New Jersey driver, and Joe Mushlitz, Bethlehem.

The opening qualifying heat went to Frank Rowsan, while the Santee Brothers' entry, from Coplay, finished second and Charley Wuchter, Bath, came home third.

Hahn was first in the second heat, while Mushlitz crossed the finish line second and Purcell was third.

Joe Cryan, well known driver in this area, won the third qualifying heat honors, while Wuchter and Purcell were second and third respectively once again.

Alfred Storm, Palmerton, was number one in the consolation encounter, while "Killer" Kane, also of Palmerton, and Charley Frantz, Point Phillip, were second and third respectively.

West End Speedway will feature stock car racing for the remainder of the spring and summer months.

Giants Decision Cubs In Tenth

Chicago, (AP)—The front-running New York Giants blasted two doubles, including one for two runs by rookie Dave Williams, and a single for a three-run tenth inning yesterday to down the challenging Cubs 6-3 and stretch their winning string to six games.

Hoyt Wilhelm, rookie knuckleballer, registered his third victory in relief. He limited Chicago to four hits and no runs for five and one-third innings after the Bruins had rallied for three markers in the fourth to tie the score, 3-3.

The loser was Bob Kelly who took over in the tenth after veteran Willie Ramsdell had gone five rounds holding the Giants to one blow and no runs. The Cubs outhit New York 14-9.

Tenth

Don Mueller led off the tenth against Kelly with a single and raced to second when centerfielder Bob Addis booted the ball. Al Dark sacrificed him to third and Wes Westrum was intentionally passed. Pinchhitter "Hank" Thompson doubled to center, scoring Mueller. Then Williams, fledgling second sacker who has been on base safely in the last fourteen games, thumped his two bagger to the centerfield wall to bring in Westrum and Thompson and give the Giants their victory.

Barrett Gains Verdict

Pocono Pines—Barrett took the measure of Tobyhanna, 5-3, here yesterday in a pre-season practice game. Both Pocono Mountains League entries used 12 players. Doug Price, Winfield "Windy" Price and Lemar Price did the pitching for Barrett.

Pirates Make Pitcher Changes

Pittsburgh (AP)—The floundering Pittsburgh Pirates have acquired one new pitcher and let two others go.

Deal

Southpaw Bill Werle, who was fined $500 for breaking spring training rules, has been traded to the St. Louis Cards for righthander George Munger, 33-year-old veteran. It was a straight trade with only contracts exchanged.

The Pirates also sent pitcher Jim Suchecki back to the St. Louis Browns. He was picked up in the spring on a "look and decide" basis.

Warriorettes Down NYU

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College girls' tennis team won its second match in two outings on Saturday, when the charges of Coach Mary Whitenight took the measure of New York University on Saturday, 4-1, on the Normal Hill courts.

The Warriorettes made a clean sweep of the singles matches, as Jean Hecht launched the sweep with an easy 6-0, 6-0 victory over Faith Ward in the number one event.

Pauline "Polly" Shetlock gave ESSTC another point by downing NYU's Peggy Shroeder in the second singles encounter, 6-1, 6-1. Elaine Hardenberg, ESSTC, completed the sweep with a 6-2, 6-0 verdict over Sue Lubin in the third and final singles event.

Doubles

Janice Hudak and Mary Martin teamed to give ESSTC its fourth and final marker in the first doubles event, with a 7-5, 6-3 decision over New York University's Ward and Joan Cannon.

NYU averted a shutout by winning the final doubles event, 6-1, 6-2, as Doris Black and Fenna Muskator teamed to defeat ESSTC's Carol Mosser and Ethel Moyer.

Boat Upsets; Five Persons Lose Lives

Pittsburgh (AP) — Three men and two women drowned yesterday in the Allegheny River after their 16-foot motorboat flipped over in midstream.

There was only one survivor among the six persons who had crowded into the boat a few minutes before at a boat club. She is Mrs. Sylvia Long, 25, of Pittsburgh.

Dead are Robert Jonnett, of nearby Swissvale, the boat's owner; James Columbo, Thomas Sweeney, Mary Ann Brose, Mary M. O'Malley, all of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Long, hospitalized with shock, said she did not know what caused the tragedy.

The 112-horsepower boat righted itself after throwing the three men and three women into the water.

water. Then it began traveling in circles around the struggling group in the water.

Finally, the craft shot across the river and grounded itself on the north bank near Blawnox, a Pittsburgh suburb. Police said there was very little water in the boat when they reached it.

Mrs. Long said the craft was going at what she called a normal rate in a straight line when it upset.

Mrs. Long was the only victim afloat when the first rescuers reached the scene. She said later that just before rescurers reached her, Jonnett disappeared under the water. He had been helping her stay afloat.

Five Perish In Fire That Levels House

Bogota, N. J., (AP)—An early morning fire swept a two-family frame dwelling yesterday, killing four children and an adult.

Dead as a result of the blaze were four children of Mr. and Mrs. John Patton: Claire, 9, Eileen, 6, and Janet and Joyce, 2½-year-old twins; and Bernard Nelson, 60, of Hoboken, visiting the Patton home.

Brought down a ladder by firemen were Mr. and Mrs. Patton and the twin girls. One twin was still alive but died later at Holy Name Hospital in Teaneck.

A son of the Pattons, John, 11, escaped by climbing down a tree adjoining the house.

GOP Film Takes Rap At Truman

Washington, (AP) — Republicans struck at President Truman on the steel controversy and corruption issues yesterday in a half-hour film entitled "The Case for a Republican Congress."

The film, broadcast by NBC on television and radio as the first of a new series, "Hats in the Ring," is a courtroom scene produced by the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee in co-operation with the National and Senate Campaign Committees.

With three professional actors serving as judges, people's counsel, and defense counsel, Senate and House GOP leaders were called as witnesses to testify about the last Republican Congress, 1947-49, and what has happened since.

The judge in his instructions to the jury concludes with an apparent attack on Truman's seizure of the steel plants, asserting:

"Those who claim power above the law and above our Constitution serve their own ends, not those of our country."

The judge, played by Maurice Franklin, added:

"Those who would corrupt the people and their principles serve not America, but the forces of its destruction."

Appearing as witnesses for the Republican party were Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., of Massachusetts, House leader; Sen. Bridges, of New Hampshire, Senate leader; Sen. Mundt (SD), and Rep. Halleck (Ind); Rep. Brown (Ohio); Rep. Reed (NY), and Rep. Judd (Minn).

Democrats will be given an opportunity to telecast a film of their own later.

Crash Occurs When Traffic Is Rerouted

A grass fire indirectly caused a two-car collision about 5 p.m. yesterday at the intersection of Broad and Bryant Sts., South Stroudsburg.

Stroudsburg borough police were re-routing traffic to allow fire-fighting equipment to reach the scene of the grass fire near Club Court, a short distance away.

One of the detoured cars, operated by Leon Hunt, 146 Day St., East Stroudsburg, collided with another, driven by George R. Merryman, Cranford, N.J., according to borough police.

Damages were about $10 to the front end of the Hunt car and about $150 to the entire right side of the Merryman auto. There were no arrests.

Church Honors Minister On Anniversary

Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlsen celebrated the 25th anniversary of his pastorate at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, with special services yesterday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Rev. Theodore G. Tappert, D.D., Litt.D., professor of church history at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, was the guest speaker in the morning.

Dr. Wohlsen was presented with numerous gifts during the service including a large black satin-lined cape and beretta, used by clergy greeting congregations at the church door at close of services, and savings bonds on the part of the congregation.

There were also gifts for the pastor and Mrs. Wholsen from the Ladies' Aid, Altar Guild and Mrs. Robert B. Smith's Sunday School Class, the latter a silver tree with silver coins fastened on it, gift of class members. Mrs. Wohlsen was also given an orchid corsage by the congregation. A. F. Everitt, vice president of the vestry and chairman of the church and pastoral anniversary committee, made the presentation.

Dr. Tappert, in his discourse, tied in the scriptural passage used at the ordination of Lutheran ministers, pledging them to preach the straight gospel. This, he said, Dr. Wohlsen had religiously carried out during his long ministry. He referred to the many changes which have taken place in ministerial and other fields over the years, which have been replaced by the new, also many problems faced.

Speaking of the validity of continuing the ministry today in which science, television and newspapers and magazines figure, Dr. Tappert said the clergyman presents his plan with no special power or external authority, but approved inward.

The three most important things required of ministers today, the speaker declared are: Systematic understanding of people; know the kind of life the minister is living, and the vital knowledge of deeper ultimate needs of man and have confidence in him.

Dr. Tappert paid tribute to the fine pastorate of Dr. Wohlsen and the cooperation of Mrs. Wohlsen in his life work and wished them happiness and contentment in the future.

Mrs. Frederick Dieckmann, soprano soloist at Church of the Good Shepherd, New York City, was heard in the number, "How Lowly Are Thy Dwellings," with Robert H. Cathcart, organist, at the console. The senior and chancel choirs sang "Brother James' Air."

Three of the four sons of St. John's, who took up the Christian ministry during Dr. Wohlsen's pastorate, were in charge of the services last night. Rev. Asa S. Wohlsen, son of St. John's, pastor of an Allentown Lutheran church, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wohlsen, was the speaker Sunday night a week ago at the 85th anniversary service.

There were greetings by Rev. Charles E. Brodell, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Scranton, and Rev. William E. Dennis, B.D., pastor of Holy Trinity Church, Clarks Summit; also by Student Graham T. Rinehart, pastor-elect of the Berwick Lutheran Parish, who will be ordained at St. John's during the sessions of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania at Buck Hill Falls, May 19-22.

Union Claims No Intention Of Striking

Washington (AP) — Steel wage negotiations collapsed at the White House yesterday but CIO President Philip Murray said "we have no intention of calling a strike against the government."

Murray told newsmen a few minutes after White House peace efforts failed that "naturally we hope, although the conditions at the moment are deplorable, that our people will continue at work during government operation of the steel properties."

Murray conferred with reporters shortly after Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential assistant had announced that White House 'steel wage negotiations were off because "no agreement can be reached at this time."

Murray said the companies never increased their wage offer at the White House beyond the 12½ cent wage boost and 5¼ cent fringe benefit package offered the union "more than three weeks ago."

He denounced the steel companies for what he called "conditioning this offer upon the government's granting them price increases beyond those allowable under the government's stabilization policies."

A. B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel, speaking for industry representatives at the White House conference, said the companies "tried earnestly to reach an agreement with the CIO Steelworkers Union."

"Mr. Murray still refused to consider the offer made by the steel companies three weeks ago," Homer said, "consisting of a $1 a day wage increase, six paid holidays, more liberal vacations, greater shift premiums and other benefits.

"No proposals were offered by the union. Instead, they insisted upon the full recommendations of the Wage Board."

Homer said the industry "could not accept" a union shop in the industry. This was one of the Wage Board's recommendations.

Homer told newsmen the government had previously assured the industry that if a wage offer of a certain amount was made "we would be taken care of on prices on a basis that was satisfactory."

Actually, however, Homer said, there was no assurance of adequate price increases made at the White House during the last two days—"none whatsoever."

Industry executives, Homer said, "have agreed to defer the present negotiations but to continue to give consideration to a solution of the problem and to hold ourselves subject to call."

Although Steelman, top adviser to President Truman on labor matters, said the government "will continue its efforts to find a solution" there was no indication of any immediate peace moves.

"There are a number of issues on which the parties are so far apart that no agreement" is possible now, Steelman told newsmen.

Steelman did not spell out the "number of issues" but a union shop demand is believed to be one of them.

Under the union shop, all the workers in the industry would have to belong to Murray's Steelworkers union.

500 Rioting Prisoners Set Fire To Two Cell Blocks, Chapel; Ten Persons Hurt

Montreal, (AP)—More than 500 screaming prisoners rioted for five hours yesterday at Bordeaux Prison, demanding better food and a new prison governor.

About 10 guards and prisoners were reported injured—none seriously—in the fray in which neither side resorted to gunfire. The rioters set fire to two cell blocks and the chapel of the wheel-shaped prison and ran out into the big prison yard.

The rioting subsided about 9 p.m. as the last of the unruly mob of prisoners straggled from the yard into the fire damaged prison.

Scores of police, summoned from all over Montreal, had entered the yard more than an hour earlier but made no effort to drive the prisoners forcibly back into the building.

Most of the policemen entered a section of the prison near the gate where they were reported to have discarded their firearms. They went into the yard holding their nightsticks.

At the height of the disorder the prisoners were reported to have broken into the canteen and ransacked the place for cigarettes and candy.

No hostages were reported held.

Some Airlines Trim Flight Schedules To Comply With Gasoline Limitation Order

New York, (AP)—Many of the nation's airlines took preliminary steps yesterday toward trimming flight schedules to comply with a government-ordered 30 per cent cut in the use of aviation gasoline for civilian purposes.

Others adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

The limitation order, effective at 4:01 a. m. Tuesday and continuing for 28 days, was caused by a country-wide strike of CIO, AFL and independent oil workers.

American Airlines, busiest of the domestic carriers, said it is planning to consolidate some flights and eliminate others.

Representatives of a number of other major airlines said plans for cutting service are under consideration but no action has been taken.

Trans World Airlines, operating on both domestic and international routes, said the curtailment order had not been received and the company was not speculating on its plans at this time.

Northwest Airlines said it expected no immediate effect on schedules.

Eastern Airlines declined to comment.

Pan American World Airways officials said they are waiting to see the order.

The curtailment comes at a time when the airlines' business is approaching a Summer peak.

Russell Given Slim Edge In Florida Voting

By The Associated Press

Democrats will name 180 national convention delegates and Republicans 78 in the politically busy forthcoming week during which chief interest centers on Florida's Democratic primary test between Sens. Estes Kefauver and Richard B. Russell.

Russell, of Georgia, was generally credited with a slight edge, but the Tennessean's folksy campaigning, which has helped carry him to victory in other state primaries, was believed to be winning him a lote of votes. This will be Florida's first presidential preference primary in 20 years. It is only a popularity contest; delegates will be chosen later.

Among the Republicans, Sen. Robert A. Taft is expected to pull back into the delegate lead which he relinquished for the first time last week to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his chief rival for the GOP nomination.

Taft's home state, Ohio, will select 56 Republican and 54 Democratic convention delegates tomorrow. Taft can count on most of the 56, although in most of the delegate contests he has opposition from a slate pledged to Harold E. Stassen.

N. J. Boy's Body Taken From River

Milford — The body of a New Jersey boy, drowned in the Delaware River near Masthope April 6, was found floating in the river at 10 a. m. yesterday, three miles south of Milford bridge.

This was just 30 minutes before a fisherman spotted the body of a Stroudsburg man who had drowned in Paradise Creek, Monroe County, a week ago.

The boy was Roy Hess, 13, Packanack Lake, who was lost when his canoe capsized in the flooded river on a Sunday morning.

A major search had been conducted for the youth throughout the month. CAP planes, hundreds of volunteers, and State Police from Pike County and Narrowsburg, N. Y., had scoured the banks and the river for more than 20 miles below Masthope.

The body was first seen at 8:35 a.m. yesterday by Clarence Musselwhite, a guard on the Milford bridge.

Musselwhite telephoned Milford State police, who in turn put out a call for members of the Milford Boat club.

The boatmen put several outboards on the river and started searching.

The body was found an hour and a half later by Daniel Burd, one of the club members, from his boat. The body was floating near the New Jersey side of the river.

Milford State police said they had a detail waiting on the New Jersey side of the river when the youth was brought ashore there. Identification was made by police, and New Jersey authorities were notified.

A detail from the Newton, N. J., State police took charge of the body and arranged for its removal to Packanack Lake.

Still being sought by Pike County authorities is the body of Cpl. John Genetsky, 22, Wilkes-Barre, who slipped and was carried to his death in the Lackawaxen River near Kimbles, Pike County, April 25.

Allies Retake Hill Position

Seoul, Korea (AP) — Allied infantrymen yesterday retook an advanced hilltop position on the Western Korean front which they had yielded Saturday in a bitter, day-long battle.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported the outpost, west and northwest of Yonchon, was reoccupied without opposition. An estimated 350 Chinese Reds forced Allied soldiers from the position Saturday.

BODY OF ROBERT O. FISH, 28, Stroudsburg, is carried up the bank of Paradise Creek yesterday morning after being taken from the water by Stroudsburg State police and volunteers. Body was sought by police and hundreds of volunteers for a week before a fisherman spotted it about two miles south of Analomink. Assisting the operation is Daniel G. Warner (in dark suit), Stroudsburg funeral home director who is in charge of services. (Daily Record Photo).

Search Ends; Discovery Made By Fisherman

The body of Robert O. Fish, 28, Stroudsburg, was found in Paradise Creek south of Analomink yesterday after a week's search by State police, CAP planes and hundreds of volunteers.

Fish, whose residence was 913 Sarah St., disappeared April 26 shortly after 9 p. m. His car had run off the highway and down a bank to the edge of the creek. Motorists had last seen him standing on a rock at the edge of the swollen water, after climbing from the car.

Yesterday Earl Weiss Jr., 388 Braeside Ave., East Stroudsburg, was fishing along the creek bank when he spotted "something white" under the surface of the water about 10:30 a.m.

Weiss, who knew the tale of Fish's disappearance, walked to the nearby home of Ernest VanFleet who was mowing his lawn under the hot sun.

VanFleet returned to the spot with Weiss, then went back for four other neighbors. The six agreed that the "something white" might be a shirt or a man's arms.

Harold Nauman, East Stroudsburg RD2, garage operator, telephoned Stroudsburg State police at 10:55.

Sgt. Morgan B. Davis, Pfc. Joseph Murphy and Pfc. Ed Beneski went to the scene, located about halfway between Analomink and Percy Crawford's cabins.

Aided by LeRoy Treible, Analomink, and Vernon Penell, East Stroudsburg RD2, police confirmed the find. The body was some three and a half to four miles below where Fish had disappeared.

Sgt. Davis said the creek was narrow and surging at the spot. The water beat into white froth around a big rock in the creek bed.

One of the crew with a chain around his waist held by the others, worked his way onto the rock and was joined by two more. The chain was held by the two men remaining on the bank.

The lower part of Fish's body had been jammed under the rock by the current's fast back-eddy. The body was worked free and brought to shore by the use of ropes.

Word of the discovery passed rapidly up and down the creek to the dozens of other searchers, including some of Fish's relatives, fellow Worthington Mower employes, and CAP volunteers from Allentown.

Coroner W. E. Andrew was called to the scene by police. He issued an official verdict of accidental drowning.

Also called was Daniel G. Warner, Stroudsburg funeral director, who removed the body to Stroudsburg pending services.

Mr. Fish was born in the Stroudsburg area and attended borough schools. He had been employed at Worthington Mower Co. for the past five years.

He attended St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg.

A veteran of World War Two, he served as a sergeant with the Service Squadron of the 437th Air Service Group in the European Theater.

Surviving are his wife, Irene May Fish; one daughter, Barbara Ann; his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fish, all at home and a number of aunts and uncles in the Stroudsburg area.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Warner funeral home, Stroudsburg. Rev. P. N. Wohlsen will officiate.

The Monroe County Joint Memorial Committee will hold special military services. Location of the cemetery will be announced.

Hope Of Korean Armistice Fades As Talks Deadlock

Munsan, Korea, (AP)—Hopes for agreement on a Korean armistice faded rapidly today as top level negotiators prepared for their fifth secret plenary session at Panmunjom.

The meeting opened at 11 a. m. and adjourned 11 minutes later.

The Allied and Communist delegations met only 13 minutes yesterday—their shortest conference since they began consideration of the United Nations Command proposal for a package solution of the truce issues.

There was no official comment regarding yesterday's session, but U. N. Command negotiators could not conceal the gravity of the situation.

It was apparent that the U. N. Command did not intend to advance any further proposals in an effort to break the deadlock over prisoner exchange, the nomination of neutral truce inspectors and air field construction.

The U. N. proposal has not been disclosed, but speculation last week centered on the possibility the Allies would agree to permit air-field construction if the Reds withdrew Russia's nomination as a neutral inspector and agreed to voluntary repatriation of prisoners.

West German Leaders Push Peace Talks

Bonn, Germany (AP) — Western and German leaders pushed vigorously ahead yesterday to complete the peace contract for West Germany despite a growing revolt by powerful political forces which appears to have put the agreement in serious trouble.

But despite the manifold storm signals, Western officials said experts of the Bonn government and the three occupation powers are working 16 hours a day to settle the remaining points of disagreement in the contract.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the Western high commissioners meet again Tuesday on the contract with Allied officials still publicly hopeful they can complete their work by May 20. But many German leaders, including some members of Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party, are saying the May 20 deadline is out and long negotiations lie ahead.

Two parties in Adenauer's three-party coalition government — the Free Democrats and the German party—have announced that they will not ratify the peace contract in its present form. They say it does not give West Germany enough sovereignty.

Powerful labor unions are fighting his rearmament program and the Allies have announced they will make no more concessions to win German agreement to the contract.

Air Ace Hits MIG In Battle

With the U.S. Fifth Air Force, Korea, (AP)—Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., an ace of two wars, was credited by Fifth Air Force with damaging a Communist MIG-15 jet yesterday in an aerial dogfight over Northwest Korea.

Gabreski, commander of the 51st Fighter-Interceptor Wing, now has a total of six and one-half Red aircraft destroyed and one damaged.

He became a jet ace April 1 when he shot down his fifth Red fighter. He was the eighth American jet pilot to attain that rating.

Gabreski was a leading ace in World War Two. He shot down 28 German planes and destroyed three more on the ground.

Uniontown (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan O'Brien, 27, burned to death yesterday in the bedroom of her home. Her husband, Francis, staggered from the smoke-filled house unhurt. Firemen said a cigaret apparently set off the blaze.

Missing Boy Found Alive

Clearfield (AP)— Searchers found a missing three-year-old boy yesterday after a 17-hour hunt in the wildest section of Clearfield County.

The boy, Dennis Smith, disappeared Saturday from a cabin in the northern part of the county where his parents were fishing.

Young Dennis, except for a few scatches on his face, suffered no ill effects from the long ordeal in the cold woods. He was too frightened to talk.

Two searchers, Clayton Meyers and Thomas Davidson, both of Osceola Mills, came across the boy about noon yesterday walking along a high ridge.

Driver Resists Holdup, Is Shot By Hitch-Hikers

Sunbury (AP) — State police sent out an alarm for two youthful hitch-hikers who wounded a motorist during an attempted holdup last night.

Robert Fenstermacher of Sunbury told police the youths fired on him when he failed to turn over his wallet to them.

The shooting took place north of here on the Danville road. Fenstermacher said he picked the youths up on the outskirts of Sunbury.

He said he had stopped the car and was attempting to evade the attackers when he was shot in the right shoulder and the right ankle. He said the attackers fled the car after the shooting. He managed to drive back here where he notified the police.

Kills Four, Then Self

Uniontown (AP) — Police reported last night R. W. Leclair, a salesman shot and killed his wife and three children—then took his own life.

Police Investigate Divorcee's Death

York (AP) — City police sought yesterday to learn the circumstances surrounding the death of a 44-year-old divorcee whose body was found in the hall of a rooming house.

The woman, Mrs. Catherine Grisinger, died shortly after her unconscious body was found early Saturday by two friends.

Dr. Morgan Zarfos, coroner's physician, said after an autopsy the woman died of head injuries which resulted in a cerebral hemorrhage.

Dr. Morgan said also there were bruises above her right eye and on her left arm and shoulder.

Police Capt. William Farrell said an investigation is under way to determine whether the woman died as a result of a fall or whether she may have been beaten.

Mobile Units To Test Cattle For Bangs Disease

Harrisburg (AP)—The state Agriculture Department said yesterday mobile units to dettect Bangs Disease in cattle should be in operation in Pennsylvania by next fall.

Secretary Miles Horst said the Bangs Disease testing service will be made free to cattle owners. The "ring test" is made on a farm-to-farm basis. Bangs Diseases causes abortion in cattle.

Under the "ring test," a composite sample of milk from all cows in the herd is tested by using a preparation known as antigen. If a blue ring appears in the test tube there is a strong possibility that one or more cows in the herd has Bangs Disease. Infected animals then are located through blood tests.

Senator Ferguson 'Thanks' Truman

Washington (AP) — Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said yesterday he thinks President Truman "breathed new life into the corruption in government issue" and that the GOP should "thank him for focussing attention on just how callous the Democratic administration is about the conditions which exist."

Ferguson had reference to a speech the President made Friday night, in which he termed "a gigantic hoax and fraud" Republican contentions that the government "is full of crooks and thieves."

Cyphers Advises Coal Users To Fill Bins At Low Prices

Bakery Workers Strike

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Approximately two-thirds of the bread supply in Pittsburgh and five adjacent counties has been shut off by a strike of 1,800 bakery workers at 36 major wholesale and retail baking firms.

Dealer For 'Old Reading' Anthracite To Withdraw Special Offer On May 15

Claude S. Cyphers, local dealer of "Old Reading" anthracite, 548 Ann St., recommends that you order your coal NOW.

He advises his customers to place their orders now while coal prices are at their lowest for the year. "It's always a nice feeling to approach Winter with a full coal bin," he adds.

When you order your coal now you benefit two ways, Mr. Cyphers points out: You save money and all sizes of coal are available.

His company is now offering special prices on stove, nut and pea coal. Customers who order before the offer expires on May 15 can take advantage of large savings.

Mr. Cyphers is also direct factory dealer for the Diamond T Motor Car Co. and also handles Diamond T school buses in addition to the complete truck line.

Mr. Cyphers pointed out Diamond T school buses are "universally approved for the safety of the pupils and for the safety of the investment!"

When school officials select school buses, they naturally consider utmost safety and lowest operating costs of primary importance. After all, Mr. Cyphers stated, the make that gives them both is obviously the best value for their tax dollers.

On both counts, Mr. Cyphers continued, Diamont T carries the hearty approval of scores of Federal, state, county and municipal purchasing bodies . . . "an approval confirmed by long-time records of hundreds of privately owned Diamond T fleets the country over."

All Diamond T bus chassis conform to every requirement of National school bus standards, but they also offer many important features not available in any other make. In addition to long-lived heavy-duty construction in every part and unit, Diamond T alone provides the "quick-detachable" front fenders for easy accessibility to engine and accessories. Diamond T springs are bushed with live rubber so that no greasing is ever required.

AIDED BY A CREW OF five volunteers, three Stroudsburg State troopers (left) search Paradise Creek north of Analomink Saturday, some 24 hours before the body of Robert O. Fish, 28, Stroudsburg, was found a few miles farther downstream. Trooper in rear of boat is peering through a glass-bottomed box. Man standing on rock behind boat holds a grappling hook. Picture at bottom shows the speed of the creek water as it swirls over submerged rocks, still north of Analomink. Boat was "walked" down the creek. Ropes attached to prow run to crews on the far and near banks, keeping the boat from moving too rapidly. Fish disappeared April 26 about 9:30 after his car ran off Route 90 two miles north of Analomink. He was last seen standing on a rock at the edge of the creek. Story and picture on Page 1. Five Injured In Pileup Of Three Cars

Wind Gap—Five persons were injured in a three-car pile-up on Route 115 a mile north of here at 5:30 yesterday.

In the first car was Alfred Ruggiero, 38, Bangor. Following was the car driven by William R. Gracely, 25, Mertztown RD1. Third in line was the sedan operated by Amos T. Kunkelman, 40, Reading.

Brodheadsville State police said the first car slowed and was struck by the car behind—which in turn was struck by the third car in line.

Anna DeCeasare, 35, Roseto, passenger in the first car, was treated by Dr. N. Romano, Bangor, for a head injury. She was driven to the physician's office by a passing motorist.

The other injured persons were all in the Gracely car: Mrs. William Gracely, face injuries; Linda Lou Gracely, 3, and Larry Gracely, 2, nose injuries; and Mrs. Raymond Heiserman, Allentown RD3, face injuries and a possible jaw fracture. All were taken to the Allentown hospital by a Wind Gap ambulance.

Police said damages were $75 to the first car, $350 to the second and $200 to the third—a total of $625. There were not arrests.

Mental Health Clinic Slated

A seminar on the "Problems of Childhood" will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Sunday school rooms of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

The meeting is a part of the Monroe County observance of National Mental Health Week which this year is scheduled from May 4 to May 10 inclusive.

Dr. Paul Morris, psychologist of the Monroe and Northampton County Child Guidance Clinic will be in charge of the meeting which is to be concluded with a discussion period and the showing of a special motion picture, "Angry Boy".

The slogan for the mental health drive this year is "Mental Illness—America's No. 1 Health Problem—Let's Face It So We Can Fight It!"

Monroe County citizens, mental health workers believe, are fortunate in that they are able to take care of their emotionally disturbed children through the Child Guidance Clinic in Easton.

One of the primary functions of the meeting and others like it during the "week" is to acquaint the public with the various kinds of mental illness. The discussions will also offer solutions to a few typical problems and will indicate that the proper time to treat potentially severe mental disorders is in childhood.

The Wednesday night meeting is open to the general public and all those interested in mental health problems, especially as they affect young people, are invited to attend.

The clinic extends a special invitation to all parents, teachers and social agencies who come into contact with children.

had been opened by President Truman Saturday. He sternly told both union and management representatives that he wanted them to reach an agreement which would make it possible for the government to relinquish its seizure of the steel mills.

Murray recently styled himself as a man who has never struck against the government. However, in view of the long wait for a new contract it was not considered at all unlikely that Murray might be confronted with limited walkouts in the mills.

The months-long controversy over a new contract has placed the eight billion dollar industry in the center of a momentous legal tussle over which the Supreme Court assumed jurisdiction Saturday.

The nation's steel mills were gearing up toward full production after a three-day strike, but steel workers did not try to conceal their perplexity and disappointment over the on-again, off-again, work and wage situation.

There was elation when Truman said he would raise wages today "or as soon as we can get ready"; and frustration when, seven hours later, the Supreme Court unanimously ordered a wage freeze while the government operates the mills—unless management agrees to a raise.

Should the basic labor dispute be ended first, the mills would be returned to their private owners and the court would probably discard the case as "moot"—that is, no longer a disputed case.

Forestry Office Reports Seven Fires In District; None Reaches Major Size

Seven fires occurred over the weekend, the district forester's office in Stroudsburg reported late yesterday. None reached major size.

10:20 a. m. yesterday: Several acres burned off on the Hawley Gun Club property on Buckhorn Mountain near Lake Wallenpaupack.

12:05 p. m. yesterday: Two acres on Spruce Mountain run, with the Barrett Township Fire Co. responding.

3:30 p. m. yesterday: Two acres at Youngs Pond, with Pocono Lake Fire Co. responding.

4:40 p. m. yesterday. A minor grass fire near Club Court, South Stroudsburg, with Stroudsburg Fire Co. responding.

Blooming Dogwood Attracts Thousands Of Motorists

Spring was bustin' out all over yesterday.

The dogwood was in bloom and the greenness of Spring had gradually replaced the last faint signs of Winter.

On the highways, a steady, slow-moving river of traffic brought New Yorkers, New Jerseyites, Ohioans and many other to the Poconos for an early look at this region.

In small towns, local baseball teams went through the motions of practice workouts and actual games. They were largely unattended. Their audiences were busy buying hot dogs, watching cager bears at "bear stops" along the road, pleasure driving in the country or watching a professional game on TV.

The few people who stayed at home spent most of the afternoon on the front or back porch.

Only the luckless who had to work stayed inside.

Honor Roll Announced

The honor roll for pupils of East Stroudsburg Junior High School for the fifth marking period was announced yesterday by Theodore Miller, principal of the school, as follows:

Cherry Valley Poplar Valley

Mrs. Helen Dennis
Phone Saylorsburg 152

Everyone is busy either housecleaning or planting but there's time for leisure too. Mr. and Mrs. James Cyphers spent last weekend in Sunbury, Pa.

Donald and Olive Reish and their two boys, Bruce and Laurence, enjoyed supper with Ed and Lib Gunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dennis entertained in honor of Mrs. Dennis' brother-in-law, Stanley Kresge at their cabin Saturday evening. It was Stanley's birthday and others there for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Heller, Mrs. Kresge and Nancy, Linda and Gertie Mae Dennis.

Ted Bush was the champion angler of the valley last week, his prize catch being a 21½ inch trout. Congratulations!

Mrs. Edward Dennis assisted Mrs. Ted Bush in packing meat for the freezer last Monday. The Bushes had had a steer killed for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brewer and children Phillip and Susan were Monday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dennis. On Sunday evening the Donald Reishes were guests of the Dennises.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dennis were also putting veal in the freezer. Helping them were Mr. and Mrs. David Smith.

Word has been received from the Donald Couches of Delaware that George is back in the hospital again.

Mrs. Livingston Gunn and Mrs. Edward Dennis will be hostesses for the Cherry Valley WSCS next Thursday. The dinner will be served promptly at noon at Mrs. Gunn's home.

No Change In Strike Picture

A strike of 86 operating engineers employed by Rochez Bros., East Pittsburgh contractors working on the new Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna will apparently continue this morning.

The engineers, members of the International Union of Operating Engineers, went on strike last Friday following a breakdown of wage negotiations between their business representatives and company officials.

The negotiations had begun after expiration of a contract between company and union on April 30 at midnight.

A union official said Friday night that "no meetings had been scheduled over the weekend".

The strike involving nearly 45 operating engineers who are now working on the construction of the Inter-state bridge across the Delaware River, also, apparently has not been settled.

No date for negotiations had been set between the union and Johnson, Drake and Piper as of Friday night. An official of the union declined to comment last night when asked whether such a meeting had been agreed upon over the weekend.

A Good Job Well Done

Remember a few weeks ago when the Red Cross campaign for $13,500 seemed to be in the doldrums? Remember, too, that at the time Robert Schell, chairman of this year's drive, expressed himself at not being particularly worried?

We note, from Saturday's Daily Record, that the area over-subscribed the quota by $1,500. As Mr. Schell remarked several weeks ago, "the people here have always come through. I have no misgivings about this year's results."

There is an old saying that "nothing succeeds like success." The Daily Record extends heartiest congratulations to "Bob" Schell and his loyal workers for a fine job.

Good News On Oatis

The report of U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs from Czechoslovakia—that William N. Oatis is in good health, is allowed to read and write and gets sufficient exercise—is a nugget of good news.

Mr. Briggs' Wednesday visit with Mr. Oatis was the first by an American official since April 23, 1951, when the Associated Press reporter was thrown into prison by the Red Czechs and falsely charged with spying.

Later, Mr. Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison on the trumped-up charges.

It took the State Department more than a year to talk the Czechoslovak government into letting a U. S. official visit Mr. Oatis.

It's reassuring that that has been accomplished. But let us hope and pray that another year won't elapse before Mr. Oatis is restored to his rightful status—that of a free American.

The Human Touch

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, who gained fame through his patient conduct of the famous Communist trial during which he was constantly heckled by the Reds' lawyers in their efforts to have the case thrown out, has many times drawn popular acclaim by evidence of his very human attitude.

The most recent example of it was last week when, during a session of the already 18-months-old trial of a number of investment concerns in a tedious civil anti-trust suit, he suddenly decided it was time for all hands to go to the ball game.

With a look out the window at the blue skies and bright sun, the learned jurist leaned forward from the bench and benignly suggested to counsel for both sides that it was a fine day for sitting in the ball park to watch the Dodgers and Giants play.

Gaining immediate consent and no objections from either group, Judge Medina named a committee to arrange for seats, and also for a steak dinner after the game.

Court adjourned. And we can only conjecture how much they enjoyed the outing and with what clear minds they renewed the weary legal boxing the next day.

Government's Steel Take

High taxes will keep the government in the steel business, regardless of the outcome of the court battle over the President's right to seize the steel mills.

Last year, for example, the steel industry paid more than one and a quarter-billion dollars in federal income taxes. That's more than four times the amount the stockholders—the owners—took out of the industry.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Is McCarthy a Liar? - Senator Joe McCarthy has answered a large number of questions concerning himself his accusations and his fight in an article for the current issue of "Cosmopolitan" magazine. The questions were asked by friend and foe.

Those who say that Joe McCarthy is a liar base their case generally upon his use of different numbers in different places. His enemies say that the Senator does not know what he is talking about. The Senator answers all questions on that subject. I shall only quote one of five questions and answers about it:

"Would you explain your use of the numbers 205 and 57 in referring to Communists and pro-Communists in the State Department?

"At Wheeling I discussed a letter Secretary of State Byrnes wrote in 1946 to Congressman Adolph Sabath. Byrnes stated that 284 individuals had been declared by the President's loyalty board as unfit to work in the State Department because of Communist activities and for other reasons, but that only 79 had been discharged. This left 205 still on the State Department's pay roll even though the President's own board had declared them unfit for government service.

"In the same speech at Wheeling, I said that while I did not have the names of the 205 referred to in the Byrnes letter, I did have the names of 57 who were 'either members of or loyal to the Communist Party.' Those names were offered to the President in a telegram I sent him the following day. The President instead of accepting the names contented himself with calling me names."

The next serious charge against Joe McCarthy is that he accuses men falsely and on insufficient evidence. Yet a number of persons have been dismissed or have resigned because of his testimony. For instance, John Stewart Service was dismissed; William Remington was convicted; Edward Posniak resigned and was questioned by a Grand Jury; Esther and Stephen Brunauer were suspended; Peveril Meigs was discharged; Hans Lansberg was dismissed; Oliver Edmund Clubb was permitted to resign; Owen Lattimore tripped himself in conflicting evidence before the McCarran Committee.

Many who were not even accused by McCarthy were either dismissed or resigned because of the heat that Senator McCarthy generated.

This matter of McCarthyism is not likely to die down, no matter who is nominated in either party. The question will be asked as to how it happened that spies were able to steal the atom bomb? The question will be asked why the FBI was frozen out of the Manhattan Project and had no authority to do anything about the atom bomb until January 1, 1947? Who ordered the FBI out of this situation?

The question will be asked why Arthur Alexandrovich Adams, top Soviet spy, was not only free to engage in espionage, but free to get away? The question will be asked who authorized Owen Lattimore to have an office in Lauchlin Currie's rooms in the old State Department Building and who permitted him to handle official mail—about which he did not at first remember. Here is what McCarthy says of that:

"In 1950 Lattimore denied this under oath, and the State Department ridicule it. However, a great deal of light is shed on Lattimore's veracity as a result of his cross-examination by the McCarran Committee on this subject.

"In his book, 'Ordeal By Slander,' advertised on its jacket as 'completely honest,' Lattimore wrote: 'I told the newspaperman that Senator McCarthy was crazy if he had got me mixed up with the State Department. I had never been in the State Department.'

"In 1950, in his sworn testimony before the Tydings Committee, Lattimore said: 'I do not have a desk in the State Department. I do not have a telephone there.'

"In 1952, however, Lattimore testifying before the McCarran Committee finally admitted under cross-examination that he did have a desk. Letters were produced, signed by Lattimore, which showed he had regular hours in the office of Lauchlin Currie, also named under oath as a Communist, in the State Deparment building."

There are those who have accused Senator McCarthy of hiding behind Congressional immunity. However, in this "Cosmopolitan" article, McCarthy names names and speaks without immunity.

The question is not whether McCarthy told the truth; it is rather whether the State Department was infiltrated by a pro-Russian group. As Russia is now our enemy, this is important now.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

George Jessel is reputed to own fourteen toupees, which he wears in rotation, each with a little longer hair than the preceding one. Thus, at the end of a fortnight, it appears that he needs a haircut. He tells his friends he's off to the barber's, then reappears with toupe number one, and the cycle begins all over again. Friends bent on flattering Jessel reserve for their surest bet a line like, "Oh, boy, Georgie, do you need to have those golden locks of yours shorn!" Milton Berle crossed him up at a Friars' Frolics, however, by exclaiming loudly, "Some toupe you've got there, Jessel. I can hardly tell it from a wig!"

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—A major battle between the Federal Reserve Board and the nation's consumer credit dealers is about to land on the doorstep of Congress.

The issue will be over continuation of controls on retail credit buying of major durable goods, such as refrigerators, stoves, household furniture, and automobiles. Under current FRB rules a 15 per cent down payment with a maximum 18-month payof is required for household goods. One-third down is required for automobile purchasing.

The National Foundation for Consumer Credit is prepared to tell the House Banking and Currency committee that FRB controls on credit buying are a fraud. This organization, composed of retail credit dealers of high repute in the business world, says there is an abundance of television sets, radios, bedding, furniture, glassware, carpets and automobiles.

The FRB, with 150 paid sleuths, is attempting to police credit buying in the nation, an impossible task with 1,000 times the 150-man force. And there are indications that even the FRB knows this since hints are being dropped daily that the Reserve Board of Governors is willing to tell the Congressional committee that it will settle for standby credit controls.

Credit merchants consider this as much of a fraud as the controls now actively imposed on their business deals. They insist that standby controls would create even more confusion than exists at the present time. At least now, the argument goes, they know the requirements. If the FRB convinces the House Banking committee that standby rules are necessary, credit merchants maintain that nobody, least of all the consumer, will know when new and higher down payment demands are going to be imposed.

The basic argument against continuation of consumer credit controls beyond June 30, their expiration date under existing law, lies in retail sales statistics from across the nation. The national Foundation for Consumer Credit and Economist William J. Cheyney state that retail buying is lagging and that merchants and manufacturers are being forced to store household items in already overflowing warehouses.

As an example, Cheyney says that there are already two and one-half million refrigerators on hand in retail store outlets. A million more than is normally held. In addition, the industry is geared to produce an estimated five and one-half million more this year, with prospects doubtful of selling four million new units.

There are other examples: in 11 major cities furniture and bedding sales are 10 to 25 per cent below February of 1951; March television and radio, 30 per cent under last year; floor covering manufacturers, 18 per cent. Surveys in New York, Cleveland, Denver, Chicago, Miami, Birmingham, Kansas City, Richmond and Indianapolis show toasters and electric irons, 25 to 50 per cent below the sales level of a year ago; St. Louis Reserve Bank figures show cash sales 20 per cent lower than in January of 1951; credit sales, twelve and one-half per cent.

The House Banking and Currency committee faces a difficult decision. Manufacturers are in trouble in some lines. In Erie, Pa., a G. E. plant manufacturing refrigerators has shut down; in Mansfield, Ohio, Westinghouse has cut back its refrigerator production 40 per cent. The three billion dollar a year wood furniture industry is running at 60 per cent capacity.

The argument to be presented to Congress will dwell on the fact that merchants caught with bulging warehouses, as some already have been, face bankruptcy. Also, unless manufacturing plants can continue to produce, the list of jobless will grow.

Producers of household goods know they are far from a market saturation. Potential demand remains high, but would-be buyers lacking the required high down payment funds are staying away from stores. Credit dealers say their research puts the blame solely on the Federal Reserve Board credit regulations. From the noise coming from the FRB there seems more than a little truth in the argument.

My New York

—By Mel Heimer

New York—It has long been a theory in this odd department that the girls who grow up to be the most feminine of all—really feminine; not the dimpled "Is big strong 'oo goin' to carry weak l'il me across the street?" kind—are the ones who are the most violent tomboys of all in their youth. To support this theory I have hauled forth occasional bright examples like Kate Hepburn, and today I have another one with which to confront you.

Her name is Helen Gallagher; she is dark and grave, with a lovely sense of whimsy, and she is featured in the fine new production of Pal Joey. She plays in the role of Gladys Bumps, which was created in the Gene Kelly version of the show a decade ago by Miss June Havoc, who since has gone on to the bigger and better things in the theater that, too, should await Helen.

When you see Helen onstage these days, even in the happily raucous role of Gladys, there is no doubt in the minds of anyone that Miss Gallagher is all female. She is superbly arranged, in magnificent sections of femininity, and she moves across the stage in her dancing with the feline grace of a ballet dancer—which, astonishingly enough, she is.

Helen plays a blackmailing gold-digger, wide-eyed and hilariously evil, and you would be surprised at the number of men who see her and leave the theater thinking they wouldn't at all mind being black-mailed by her.

If you knew Helen as a girl, you might be nonplussed. For when she was from 6 to 11, she was the terror of Richardson avenue.

Richardson Avenue is a street in the northeast Bronx, a section that still is notable chiefly because Bruno Richard Hauptmann lived there in the days when he did or did not kidnap the Lindbergh baby.

"As a section, I guess you would call it middle-class poor," The candid Helen told me today over breakfast in Rumpelmayer's, in the St. Moritz. "And as for the Gallaghers—I guess we were poor class poor."

There didn't seem to be any other girls in the block. Maybe this is how tomboys are born. Whatever the reason, the thin, occasionally ailing Helen took up with the gang of amiable young ruffians that contained her brother Charles, two years older.

There must have been 11 to 13 of them—and that day never went by that all these boy-type marauders didn't go swooping through the northeast Bronx, accompanied by their small-fry Calamity Jane.

That was a long time ago and Miss Helen no longer goes whooping around the streets of the Bronx in company with 15 males—but she looks back on it now and wouldn't change it for the world.

Maybe the Freudians can explain tomboys more completely than I, but I have two simple and I think, easily-understandable explanations: (1) they are girls who have independence of mind and don't like to be stampeded into assembly-line femininity, and (2) they like boys better than girls. This last explanation makes enormous sense.

Shall we say that Merlene Dietrich is th eembodiment of all that is seductive, alluring and charming in womanhood? Yes, we shall. And I get you a stogie, as Ed Durling does, that Marlene would rather be in the company of men any day.

Aside from being a grown-up tomboy, Miss Gallagher is a frequently shy girl, who did a fantastic deadpan tango in High Button Shoes some seasons ago that will live in theatrical memory along with Barrymore's Hamlet and Bert Lahr's woodman who chopped, chopped, chopped.

Like so many song-and-dance children, Helen hopes one day to be a serious—and good—actress. She thinks Arthur Kennedy's the greatest of all talents, as most right-thinking souls do, and she wears dresses now instead of overalls. The dresses fit handsomely and there is no serious doubt, as you see her in them, that she is a woman.

WAKING UP AMERICA

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

A young Harvard graduate gave me a lesson in juvenile psychology last Saturday.

This chap had come out into the country for the weekend to visit his mother, as he does almost every weekend.

He has an apartment in New York City, wears nice clothes, and is an all-around man of the world.

I am not acquainted with his Monday-to-Friday diet, but I DO know that Friday nights, Saturdays and Sundays he gets the best of everything in the culinary line. I have eaten at his house.

The fellow, as I said, had come out to his mother's house as usual and was dolling up for a party to which he was going in the evening.

It seems that one of the posts had rotted away, or something, and the gate wouldn't stand up.

Reluctantly he went out into the yard to see what was wrong with the d--n thing.

I happened to pass by the place just then.

"Hello, Jim," I said. "I see you are making yourself useful."

"Yea," he replied, "I guess I'm cheap labor."

I didn't answer him at the time. We talked about other things, about Spring in the country and life in New York and so forth.

But when I got home I started to ponder.

I was wondering how many modern kids consider themselves "cheap labor" when their parents ask them to do something.

Come to think about it, many times when I was a youngster I resented my father or mother asking ME to do something around the house or to run an errand for them.

Cheap labor, they consider me, I thought.

His father died some years ago. Since then his mother, a business woman, had reared him.

With her own little inheritance and her business income she had managed to send him to Harvard, to pay for his tuition, his board, his fraternity dues, his clothes, and the various extramural complications into which he got himself.

She bought him an automobile and paid for its upkeep.

He was very sick for a while. So she paid his hospital bills and his doctor bills and all the other expenses one incurs when sickness strikes.

And not only that. She worried at least twenty pounds off herself over the kid, and she lived almost her entire life for him.

She kept up a lovely home primarily for HIM, and she looked forward to every weekend when he would spend a few hours with her.

And even then she didn't see too much of him. There were all kinds of parties he'd "have to go to," and that cost HER money. (He is at present engaged in a so-called business enterprise with what he calls "a future." At present it's only an expense—and that means money out of HER pocket.)

The way I figure it, this mother could have saved herself a lot of money if she had hired outside labor at $100.00 an hour.

But that isn't the way mothers do it.

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — Esther Williams' latest swim-dance-and-song spectacle, "Skirts Ahoy!" is weak in plot but strong on specialty numbers. The best is an underwater swimming routine by Esther and a couple of youngsters, Russell and Kathy Tongay.

Russell, 5, and his 4-year-old sister perform an array of stunts with Miss Williams, Joan Evans, and Vivian Blaine. Esther chases a handsome Navy doctor, Barry Sullivan, who'd rather do the chasing himself.

Joan quarrels with Keefe Brasselle, who left her at the altar but is now repentant. Vivian Blaine, who wins the acting honors, yells in strident Brooklynese at an elusive sailor lover, Dean Miller. Chipping in on the song and/or dance numbers are the five De Marco Sisters and Billy Eckstine. Debbie Reynolds and Keenan Wynn make an unbilled USO-style appearance.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

The Real News Newsreel

Keith, Funston, boss man of the New York Stock Exchange, points out that the money bet on horse races in this country last year would have been enough to supply two-thirds of all the dough raised by American business corporations through selling shares. We are not sure what Keith is trying to prove, unless it is that more corporation chiefs should go to the post on horseback, wearing definite stable colors . . . But we have always believed that stock market daily handicap and scratch sheets would be helpful, since their lure has been so successful at race tracks . . . We would like to know who's up on an investment, what he did last time out, whether he is trying, etc . . . And a lot of folks who are being drawn to the races would switch to the investment markets if they could get daily selections and comment, viz:

U. S. Steel . . . Changed hands recently.

A. T. & T. . . . Champ in field; always well up.

Union Carbide . . . Some good performances.

American Cyanide . . . Good last summer; shows little now.

General Motors . . . Off form of late.

Chrysler . . . Erratic; can surprise.

Newmont Mining . . . Will bear watching.

Sears Roebuck . . . Not persevered with.

And we are informed by Shudda Haddim, a well-known racing enthusiast, that one reason he sticks to the ponies is the fact that, despite all the hazards, he has never seen a horse go to the post with the words on his saddlecloth, "While the information on this skinner has been obtained from sources believed to be reliable, we do not guarantee them. No statement on his value, ability prospects, etc., or hint regarding his chances to come down in telephone numbers, is to be construed as an offer to accept bets."

Well, President Truman wasn't in the steel business much longer than he was in the haberdashery business . . . Scratched off as a favorite vacation spot by the Democrats since that steel case decision is the Isle of Pines . . . And at least temporarily sidetracked in the White House is the recording "I'll Be SEIZING You In All The Old Familiar Places." . . . Russians riddled a French passenger plane with bullets the other day . . . Anything to prove Moscow's peaceful intentions as against the warlike behavior of the helpless and unarmed . . . An "Ikeburger Sandwich" has now appeared in lunchrooms . . . (Plenty hot, of course, with the main ingredients tiger meat, chili, victory garden onion, snap beans and plenty of mustard.) . . . You could have knocked us over with a feather this week when we found Justice Bill Douglas on the opposite side from Justices Frankfurter and Black in a high court decision . . . "Bronco Buster" is an up-to-date Western about the daredevil cowboys who compete in rodeos. Including exciting color shots of action at Cheyenne, Phoenix, and Los Angeles rodeos, it concentrates smartly on the hair-raising heroics of its cowboys more than on its slender plot.

John Lund is a champ rider, Scott Brady is a talented newcomer whose quick success goes to his head. They compete for Joyce Holden's love while Chill Wills, as a rodeo clown, provides fun and wise counsel. Director Budd Boetticher has crammed in much of the arena excitement that won him prominence with "The Bullfighter and the Lady."

The ceremony was performed in the Shawnee Presbyterian Church in the presence of many relatives and friends by Rev. Hubert D. Newton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Mountain, Delaware Water Gap, assisted by Robert M. Bradburn, acting pastor of the Shawnee church.

The church was decorated with banks of dogwood and Spring flowers. Mrs. Robert Bradburn furnished suitable music for the wedding, the soloist having been Mrs. Margaret Kulp, of Shawnee, who was heard in the numbers "At Dawning," "Because" and "I Love Thee."

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather and was attired in a white slipper satin gown with lace inserted bodice. Her fingertip veil was caught up by a Juliette cap. She carried a bouquet of calla lillies.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, there's certainly no sense talking about the weekend's weather since each of you was absorbing it in your own way—storing it up for all the weeks to come.

No sense talking about the Music Club concert either, since most of you heard it—or about the concerts you're going to this week, since you know very well what you want to do.

Elaine Layton's wedding is fully covered in another story—but there's a story behind that, too, which you might not know. It's a story that goes back 200 years to another May-time, when Nicholas DePui, first settler in the Shawnee section laid the cornerstone of the first church—up on the hill overlooking the river.

Little did he imagine, I presume, that on that site, in May, 1952, a child of his blood, nine generations later, would be married. Haven't figured out how many great-great-great's that would be.

But just now, when the lilacs we planted on Mother's Day 11 years ago are just coming into bloom again, I can sort of dream that generations from now, they might deck the wedding table of some great-great-granddaughter.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

From where I stood, I could see the straw-thatched young man with the large blue eyes rather well. Standing at the Tea Room telephone, he was wearing a tan shirt open at the neck, and a brown sport jacket with a small, rather inconspicuous pattern. He appeared just as good natured as his famous voice sounded over the wire.

"I'm here as the guest of Fred Waring," Sterling Holloway was saying. "He's a good friend of mine, and I try to get here often. I really came for the opening of Shawnee Inn and to see the dogwood."

"How do you like our beautiful Pocono mountains?" I asked.

"Oh, I love this section. And I love this store." For a moment he paused as though I'd contradicted him, and then continued, "I really do. I never miss coming in when I'm here. I was in yesterday too. As a matter of fact, we were just talking about it. I was telling the others that I'd never seen such a complete store." He smiled amiably as he added, "I was wondering if there isn't a landing place for helicopters on the roof. You seem to have everything else."

"That's a fine compliment for Wyckoff's, Mr. Holloway. Thank you. But why don't you come here to live? We'd love having you."

"It's a good idea," he agreed, "but I'm in Hollywood most of the time. Of course, I've just been in a play in New York, and I'm returning there today to make more children's records. For the past year I've been with the Walt Disney studios, doing most of the narration for the Disney shorts. My last big picture was 'Alice in Wonderland.' I was the Cheshire cat." (Mr. Holloway was also narrator of "Peter and the Wolf" and "Lambert the Lion," both on film and record. The latter will be available to his juvenile fans in about a week, he thinks.) "Records now to be cut for Decca are 'The Little House' and 'The Blue Coupe'."

"C-o-o-p?" I asked.

Veteran of many movies, Holloway is as familiar to most of us as apple pie. His trademarks are a tricky voice, a bobbing Adam's apple, and the shock of blond hair that stands on end in the same awed way his wide eyes look upon life. Feeling somewhat like a Peeping Tom, I finally said, "I can see you from where I stand. I'm over here in stationery —the one in the yellow coat."

The blue eyes spotted me then and a brown-clad arm shot into the air. Forgetting the phone, Mr. Holloway looked out and called, "HI!" It was a greeting to all Monroe Countians who have long known and admired him.

1851—Delegates met in Baltimore, set up a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws for the proposed national printers' union "for the relief and benefit of the craft."

1857—New Orleans convention considered a proposal for "establishment of a union printers' home for those members who have grown old in the art."

1862—Convention criticized the secretary-treasurer for calling off the convention scheduled in 1861, for such a minor reason as a war between the states; instructed the president to send a letter to all southern unions "assuring them of our continued good will and fellowship."

1863—Criticized the "paper trust" for increasing paper prices, and petitioned Congress to remove from paper the "duty now charged and regulated by laws."

1864—Resolved that "monopoly of the telegraph dispatches" by the Associated Press "is hurtful to the craft and a direct infringement of the liberty of the press." —Accepted membership of, and bargained for wages for, proofreaders and stereotypers working in union shops.

1865—First proposed an eight-hour day, although most craftsmen were working ten, eleven and twelve hours and many members were paid on "piece-work" basis.

1866—Began 43-year struggle to secure copyright law which would protect American craftsmen from competition with cheaper European labor.

1869—Opened membership to women, required equal pay for equal work and barred discrimination against them. —Resolved that printers should be hired "solely on account of competency, and not for religious or political views they may entertain." —Name changed to International Typographical Union after affiliation of Canadian unions, paving the way for real friendship between Canada and the United States.

1870—Miss Augusta Lewis of New York elected corresponding secretary, the first woman to be chosen as an officer of a national or international union.

1872—Launched long campaign for repeal of the conspiracy laws of the various states, under which labor organizations were subjected to persecution. —Began chartering separate unions of printing pressmen in cities where such members desired separate charters.

1873—Birth of principles of the Fair Practices Act; Union insisted each publisher have newspaper set or reproduced in type by his own employees; men were furnished for a varying volume of work at no loss of time nor extra expense to publishers; fair practice principles still in effect, fully justified by eighty-year experience.

1876—Convention took first action to abolish sub-lists, and opened the way for a plan of priority now accepted and used throughout most industries.

1877—Local Unions provided relief funds, shared work, when great depression forced newspaper suspensions, business bankruptcies, wage reductions, widespread unemployment, and unregulated apprenticeship problems.

1879—International Typographical Union started action to organize the American Federation of Labor, instructing secretary to contact other national and international unions; also instructed local unions to "cooperate with other trades unions" at the local level "for united action."

1881—Federation of Trades and Labor Unions formed at convention called by Typographical Union delegates; announced platform demands for compulsory education of children, opposing employment of children under the age of fourteen, favoring an eight-hour day, opposing competition of prison and foreign labor, and requiring wages to be paid in lawful currency.

1885—Stereotyper and electrotyper members given local union charters in cities where such members desired separate local unions. —Monotype process patented, producing type from perforated paper punched from keyboard; journeyman printers learned and have operated such machines, without any question of jurisdiction, for more than sixty years.

Employers organized association to oppose Union, secured first injunction to prohibit picketing or speaking to strikebreakers; organized labor staged huge parade in protest against use of new strikebreaking weapon, the injunction, by government agency.

1892—Union Printers Home formally opened for reception of residents, and for sixty years the I.T.U. has provided this home and hospital for afflicted, aged and infirm printers. —Two thousand pressmen members seceded and formed their own international union. —I.T.U. authorized membership for mailers and news writers.

1914—Authorized sending delegates to Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, after it separated from the American Federation of Labor by agreement. Represented at every session since that time.

1917—International Typographical Union guaranteed protection of jobs and priority for its 7,343 members who entered military service of Canada and the United States.

1919—Negotiated international agreement with commercial printing employers for a 44-hour week, which employers repudiated on the day it was to become effective.

1921—Commercial printers struck to enforce the 44-hour agreement made with employers in 1919; weekly half-holiday won, pattern for all crafts.

1922—Began free collective bargaining without previous arbitration commitment by either party, since record of 21-year experience proved complete freedom necessary to successful negotiation.

1930—Union survived greatest economic depression in history by sound principles and practical approach to problems, shared work and created unemployment funds, set a pattern for others.

1933—Began a five-day week at expense of members only; later federal law helped other workers get the five-day week; reduced earnings were offset by sound bargaining and cooperative practices.

1935—Wagner Act seldom used by union printers. I.T.U. gave aid to newly organized locals. —Urged American Federation of Labor to organize millions of workers in mass production industries.

1937—International Typographical Union refused to be assessed by the A. F. of L. to fight industrial organization, holding fast to the policy adopted in 1882 and reiterated in 1887 and 1900 asserting its autonomy.

1939—Tolerated suspension from American Federation of Labor for non-payment of the unauthorized assessment to create a fund for war against industrial unions.

1944—Accepted re-affiliation on same basis as in 1881, after A. F. of L. adopted policy: "International unions have complete authority to regulate the conduct of their officers and members, and to control the use of their funds and properties."

1947—International Typographical Union refused to accept any of the alleged benefits of the Taft-Hartley Act, holding fast to time-tested, sound principles of free collective bargaining, unhampered by governmental bureaucracy or other outside interference.

1952—Its 89,659 members still hold to the 100-year-old principles and practices which have made the International Typographical Union a great social force for progress and betterment, as well as the oldest and most democratic trade union in the world.

Tulsa Chorus Praised By Fred Waring

Fred Waring, famed chorus and orchestra conductor, has this to say about the University of Tulsa Chorus which will present a concert tomorrow night in East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Auditorium:

"The University of Tulsa Chorus is one of the finest groups of college singers in the country today. One of the things that I like best about them is the kind of programs that they perform. They go all out to give their audiences an evening of real pleasure with music."

"Many college and university choruses stick too closely to one kind of music. That's all right to demonstrate specialization in performance and to show how learned the conductor is—but it's usually tough on the great majority of the audience who come for entertainment—not instruction.

"Arthur Hestwood, director of the Tulsa Chorus, is one of the many 'alumni' of the Pennsylvanians who are now teaching music in schools and colleges. He is an excellent musician, knows how to train his groups well and build good programs for them. I have just heard three recordings made by the group that is coming to Stroudsburg and they are really good. I'm surely going to be on hand Tuesday night to hear them in person. This concert is a must for everyone who enjoys good singing."

The recordings mentioned will be played on Toni Spaulding's WVPO program at 11:30 tomorrow morning, with Tom Waring acting as assisting disc jockey.

Three Weeks Crammed Into Seven Days

Don't look now but this week is actually three weeks in Monroe County.

The "weeks" in this case are the designated dates for the observance of certain things in our daily lives.

For one thing, of course, all three "weeks" appear under the auspices of official proclamation in one form or another.

The burgesses of Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Mount Pocono and Delaware Water Gap for example, have joined together in proclaiming this seven-day period (which began yesterday) as "Be Kind To Animals" week. Score one for the SPCA.

The burgesses of the two boroughs, meanwhile, have also given the nod to this same seven-day period as "National Music Week" in this area. Here the Monroe Music Club entered the picture with a county-wide concert last night at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church featuring sacred music and enlisting the talents of baritone Roy Wilde.

Bringing up the rear on the list in order of appearance (not necessarily in importance) is National Mental Health Week which is commemorated on the same dates —May 4 to May 10 inclusive.

Free Booklet Tells How Deaf Hear Again With Startling Clarity, Ease

CHICAGO (Special)—New hope for the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing was voiced by a noted Chicago acoustical scientist.

He reported that through the miracle of modern electronics it is now possible to overcome deafness even if the loss is severe.

He demonstrated how the deaf can hear again with a clarity and ease they never dreamed possible.

According to this electronic engineer, Mr. Sam Posen of Beltone, "the longer a hearing loss is neglected, the harder it is to recapture certain speech sounds and understand them."

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with what may be done to help the deaf hear again with miraculous clarity, full authoritative details about deafness and how to overcome it are described in an informative, new, illustrated booklet, which will be sent in a plain wrapper without any cost or obligation.

To obtain your free copy, simply send your request to: Electronic Research Director, Dept. 05-A, Beltone Hearing Aid Co., 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill. A postcard will do. —Adv.

Welcome as May

Unless the weatherman double-crosses us, we're going to enjoy some real coats-off weather soon. And the warmer it gets, the more welcome is a glass of cool, refreshing Schaefer Beer.

Here's something interesting about the Schaefer you drink today. We started brewing it when you were still bundled up in winter clothes. Beer of Schaefer quality has to be ripened over a long "lagering," or aging, period. Schaefer realized the value of lagering back in 1842. In fact, we are the oldest brewers of lager beer in the U.S.

So your Schaefer beer has over a century of tradition behind it. That's why—though it is light and clear as a modern brew should be—it has character and true beer flavor.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Elmer Christine, Monroe County's district attorney, is very interested in forming a bowling league for the youth of the area, in an effort to combat all types of juvenile delinquency next winter. Christine, well known in local sports circles, made his feelings public as the guest speaker at the Record Major League bowling banquet at the Thomas P. Lambert Veterans of Foreign Wars Post on Saturday. Bob Weisenflue, circuit president, did a fine job of running the affair, both as a banquet and later a business meeting.

Weisenflue was reelected to another term as president, as was Ralph "Pete" Arnold, league secretary. Dick Andress was elected to replace Gail "Doc" Fegley as vice president. Speaking of Fegley brings to mind the fact that the local softball star and Little League manager was responsible for starting the Little League form of baseball in Freeland this year. Fegley, an eye doctor, has an office in that town and wherever "Doc" is located, there is bound to be an interest in athletics.

Speaking of Little League baseball makes this the proper spot to mention that the Stroudsburg Little League will hold its initial tryouts of the season today, at the Stroudsburg Playground. The word making the rounds indicates that officials of the circuit expect more than 100 candidates for the four teams. The new Stroudsburg Little League field, so I'm told, will be ready for the first game of the regular season.

Harold Storm had five birdies on the first nine holes at Glen Brook Country Club last week. Jake James must credit brother Jessie for an assist on that spectacular 27 the former shot at Mountain Manor recently. Jake was forced to purchase a new putter this spring, when he discovered, not one, but two of his old standbys missing. Brother Jessie had borrowed them to do some indoor putting and had been a little slow in returning the two clubs. However, after shooting a 27, I imagine all is forgiven.

Bill Pope, former right fielder and first baseman for the Stroudsburg Poconos, having played here in the final year of the North Atlantic League, 1950, was in town over the weekend. Pope is a member of Uncle Sam's Navy and is now stationed in Philadelphia. Ray Davies, former soccer star at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and coach at Coolbaugh High, is home on leave as a captain in the army. The East Stroudsburg resident is also a former athletic great at Tobyhanna Township High school.

Jake Nittle, probably the outstanding bowler in Monroe County, hasn't missed a match in 16 years with the Record Major League. If my memory serves me correctly, I believe this column was informed some time ago that Nittel also has a perfect attendance record in 13 years with the Delaware Valley League, despite the difficult transportation problems that arise from time to time. There were several practice games among Pocono Mountains League teams yesterday, but the rivals begin playing for keeps next Sunday.

John Polzer, center fielder for Stockertown, is a star member of the baseball, football and wrestling teams at Blair Academy. Bob Schick, veteran diamond figure in Monroe County, is field captain of Pocono A.C. this season. Schick formerly played with the Stroudsburg Poconos, in the NAL, and also saw action with various teams in the Pocono Mountains League. Harold Freeman's grandfather, Milt Freeman, was an outstanding pitcher in this regon in the past, so this column was informed recently.

Harold Freeman is currently holding down center field for Pocono A.C. at this early portion of the 1952 Blue Mountain League flag race. The roof of the grandstand at the Stockertown field was blown off by last fall's terrific rain and wind storm. Other portions of the stands were also damaged by the storm. The Blue Mountain League this season is virtually flooded with former North Atlantic League diamond talent and several transfers from the Tri-County League.

Bob Christenberry's appearance as featured speaker at Stroudsburg High's Varsity "S" club banquet should result in one of the all-time high spots in local athletics. The New York State Boxing Commissioner is the center of all eyes, throughout the nation, in his torrid battle to rid the boxing game of the scum that has dominated the ring sport in recent years. Those people able to attend the affair should consider themselves very fortunate indeed. This column is only one of many solidly behind New York's new ring boss.

Little League To Drill

Stroudsburg's Little League will hold its first baseball tryouts of the season today, at Stroudsburg Playground. The drill session is scheduled to open promptly at 6 p.m.

Pocono A.C. Rolls Over Stockertown In Opener, 14-5

Schaller, Shick Lead Plate Attack

Stockertown — Pocono A. C. opened the seventh annual Blue Mountain League pennant dash with a convincing 14-5 victory over Stockertown here yesterday, on the losing organization's home field, before a small crowd. A big six-run sixth inning took all doubt out of the game, as the Monroe County club finished as top-dog in the three-hour marathon.

Chet Lucki turned in a good job of relief pitching for the winning aggregation, while Dick Schaller and Bob Schick paced the winning attack, each with three safeties in five trips to the plate. Included in Schaller's output was a 320-foot home run over the right field fence, with the bases empty, in the fifth round.

Tie Score

Andy Unger opened on the hill for Stockertown and was touched for a single run in the top of the first. However, Stockertown came back to even the count in its half of the first frame on Redge "Lefty" Flanagan and then went ahead briefly in the second with three runs.

However, the visiting unit caught up with Unger in the third and tied the count with three markers. Pocono A. C. moved out in front in the fourth for keeps, by scoring one time.

The visiting club picked up another singleton in the fifth on Schaller's circuit blow and then put the game on ice with six markers in the sixth, when a total of 12 batters went to the plate. The Schoonovermen picked up additional singletons in the seventh and eighth for good measure.

Lucki gave up his only run in the seventh, when a pair of walks, a single and an error caused all the damage.

Tatamy Takes Measure Of West Bangor

Tatamy—Tatamy, featuring the new 1952 look, opened the Blue Mountain League campaign with a comfortable 10-4 victory over West Bangor yesterday, here on the winning club's home grounds. The winning team went out in front in the first inning and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance.

Featuring several new faces in the starting lineup, the home club jumped off with three counters in the first off Nin Fischer, starting West Bangor hurler, and then came back with two more in the bottom of the third.

Three More

The Tatamy offensive picked up three more counters in the sixth, before West Bangor could pick up two tallies in each of the seventh and eighth rounds. Tatamy came back with two runs in the bottom of the eighth to make doubly certain of victory.

Tatamy banged out 16 base hits and used four West Bangor errors to good advantage in notching the opening day victory.

Christenberry To Speak At Annual Varsity "S" Banquet

Robert Christenberry, director of the New York Athletic Commission, has agreed to speak to the Stroudsburg High Varsity "S" club and its guests at the organization's annual banquet to be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel in the very near future.

The banquet was originally scheduled for Wednesday, May 12, but the date had to be changed to fit in with Christenberry's plans, it was announced last night by T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, director of athletics at Stroudsburg High.

Christenberry, a part-time resident of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, is currently in the middle of a bitter battle to clean up boxing in the Empire State. The new boxing commissioner has made great strides toward cleaning up the sport which has become overrun with filth during the last few years.

The Varsity "S" Club was formed a year ago at the Curtis Testimonial and this is the organization's first banquet since that time.

Christenberry was the number one choice of all the club heads to speak at this year's banquet.

Hill Gail Has Chance To Be Ninth Winner Of Triple Crown

By John Chandler

Louisville, Ky., (AP)—Now that the Calumet Farm's classy Hill Gail has the Kentucky Derby safely stowed away, the big question in this blue grass country today is whether or not he can become the ninth horse to sweep racing's triple crown.

The $75,000-added Preakness Stakes, second jewel in the crown, comes off May 17 in Baltimore, with the final jewel—the $100,000-added Belmont Stakes—in New York June 7.

Argument

No sooner had Eddie Arcaro steered Hill Gail's nose under the wire a two-length winner over Dixiana's Sub Fleet Saturday at Churchill Downs than the arguments started.

The Preakness at Pimlico, where it seems around 10 or 12 horses will start, is over a mile and three sixteenths route, compared with the longer mile and one quarter of the Derby.

Hill Gail showed with his speed he could handle 15 others in the Derby.

East Bangor Runs Over Johnsonville

Johnsonville— East Bangor, defending regular season Blue Mountain League champion, swamped Johnsonville in the opening game of the 1952 campaign for both teams yesterday, 20-1, here on the losing club's home field. The game was limited to seven innings by mutual agreement.

Mace Barnhardt pitched a one-hit contest for East Bangor, but the lone safety was a home run by Peter Polisky in the sixth inning.

No Contest

Other than the four bagger by Polisky, the entire afternoon was devoted to East Bangor scoring, as the visiting nine counted in all but the third and fifth frames.

East Bangor opened with three in the first and four in the second, followed with one in the fourth and then wound up hostilities with six in the sixth and the same number in the seventh and final frame.

Ithaca, N. Y. —East Stroudsburg State Teachers College came from behind in the final event, the broad jump, here on Saturday to take the measure of Ithaca College, 65-61, in a track and field meet held on the losing school's home grounds.

ESSTC after watching an early lead fade, was faced with a three-point deficit going into the broad jump and needed nothing less than a first and second place to bring home the bacon.

Lewis won the event with a leap of 20 feet, one and one-quarter inches.

Bill Jackson, Negro star from Ithaca, was the only triple winner in the meet, bagging top laurels in the 220-yard low hurdles, the 120-yard high hurdles and in the high jump.

Mark Nejako won both the half-mile and mile runs for ESSTC and was giving it a good try for three victories when fatigue forced the ever-trying distance man out of the two-mile run.

Reds Capture Pair From Phils

Cincinnati (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds managed to hold on for 5 to 4 and 8 to 7 victories over the Philadelphia Phils yesterday. The twin triumphs, coupled with New York's defeat of Chicago, boosted the Reds into third place in the National League.

The pitching hero of both games was Frank Smith.

Relief

In the opener he came to the rescue of Herman Wehmeier in the ninth with the tieing and winning runs on base and fanned Del Ennis to end the game. In the nightcap he had to save the game for Harry Perkowski by getting Ennis to end the eighth inning and then retiring the Phils in the ninth without allowing a hit.

The Reds clubbed Curt Simmons out of the box in the first game to give the young southpaw, recently returned from the army, his first defeat. Ewell Blackwell got credit for the Cincinnati triumph-his first of the season-although he had to have help from Wehmeier and then Smith.

Tobyhanna Bows To Daleville In First Game Of Season, 10-7

Daleville—Tobyhanna, a new entry in the Pocono Mountains Association, launched the 1952 season on a losing note here yesterday, bowing before Daleville, 10-7, on the winning team's home diamond.

The newly formed Tobyhanna A. C. contingent waged an uphill battle in the late innings, but was unable to catch Daleville, as the home club added to its early advantage in the late frames.

Big Innings

Daleville touched Karl Henning for four runs in the bottom of the second and was headed only once briefly after that time.

Tobyhanna picked up one run in the fourth and went ahead 5-4 with four markers in the sixth. However, Daleville picked up three in the bottom of the sixth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth which proved to be more than enough needed to win.

Tobyhanna plays at home on the Coolbaugh High field next Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., with Gouldsboro providing the opposition.

Former Yankees Lead Senators

Washington (AP) — Archie Wilson and Jackie Jensen, obtained from the Yankees Saturday got nine hits between them yesterday to lead Washington to 2-1 and 15-7 victories over the St. Louis Browns, before a crowd of 23,006.

Wilson slammed five hits including a triple and double, while Jensen blasted a double and three singles. Wilson scored both of the Senators' runs in the first game as Bob Portefield edged Tommy Byrne in a pitching duel.

Offense

The Senators slammed three pitchers for twenty-one hits in the second game. Cass Michaels got four hits and Jensen, Wilson, Mickey Vernon and Pete Runnels three each. Jim Busby, obtained in a trade with the Chicago White Sox, chipped in with two hits as the Senators overcame the 6-0 deficit.

The Browns clipped Sandy Consuegra and "Bunky" Stewart for six runs in the first two innings of the second game, but Washington nicked Bobby Cain for two runs in the second inning and shelled him in the fourth when the Senators scored six runs. Washington added five more runs off Satchel Paige, the loser, and Hal Hudson in the sixth inning.

Portland Trips Roseto In Overtime, 7-6

Portland— Portland's revitalized entry in the Blue Mountain League opened the 1952 campaign with a 7-6 victory yesterday in an 11-inning struggle with Roseto, much to the delight of a large home crowd. However, the Apollos had to come from behind in the last inning, with two out, to turn the tide of battle.

The home-club blasted Glen Raph for four runs in the first, but it was only enough to match the four-run assault on Al Stull in the first half of the same frame, by Roseto.

Roseto broke a string of six scoreless innings in the top of the eighth, when Manager Nick D'Allesandro's club pushed two runners into pay dirt.

Big Blow

However, Randall "Bish" Ott blasted a 350-foot home run over the left field fence in the bottom of the ninth, with one mate aboard, to give his forces an 8-8 tie at the end of regulation time.

Neither team was able to score in the 10th and Roseto went down without a run in the second overtime session. However, Portland pulled the game out of the fire in the bottom of the 11th stanza.

George Jackson, second and winning Portland pitcher, opened the frame with a walk and was sacrificed to second by Frank Sharp. Ed O'Rourke popped out, but Bob Trippanera doubled the winning run across the plate. There were two out when the winning run scored.

Roseto had nine hits and Portland eight, but Roseto committed two errors and the Apollos booted only one chance.

New Jersey Entry Wins First Feature At West End Speedway

Gilbert—A reported crowd of 1,500 people watched Lewis Hahn, one of New Jersey's stock car chauffers, take the first feature event of the present season here at the West End Speedway, as 22 other entries failed in their bid for the top prize.

Second place in the feature event went to Ferman Purcell Jr., fellow New Jersey driver, and Joe Mushlitz, Bethlehem.

The opening qualifying heat went to Frank Rowsan, while the Santee Brothers' entry, from Coplay, finished second and Charley Wuchter, Bath, came home third.

Hahn was first in the second heat, while Mushlitz crossed the finish line second and Purcell was third.

Joe Cryan, well known driver in this area, won the third qualifying heat honors, while Wuchter and Purcell were second and third respectively once again.

Alfred Storm, Palmerton, was number one in the consolation encounter, while "Killer" Kane, also of Palmerton, and Charley Frantz, Point Phillip, were second and third respectively.

West End Speedway will feature stock car racing for the remainder of the spring and summer months.

Giants Decision Cubs In Tenth

Chicago, (AP)—The front-running New York Giants blasted two doubles, including one for two runs by rookie Dave Williams, and a single for a three-run tenth inning yesterday to down the challenging Cubs 6-3 and stretch their winning string to six games.

Hoyt Wilhelm, rookie knuckleballer, registered his third victory in relief. He limited Chicago to four hits and no runs for five and one-third innings after the Bruins had rallied for three markers in the fourth to tie the score, 3-3.

The loser was Bob Kelly who took over in the tenth after veteran Willie Ramsdell had gone five rounds holding the Giants to one blow and no runs. The Cubs outhit New York 14-9.

Tenth

Don Mueller led off the tenth against Kelly with a single and raced to second when centerfielder Bob Addis booted the ball. Al Dark sacrificed him to third and Wes Westrum was intentionally passed. Pinchhitter "Hank" Thompson doubled to center, scoring Mueller. Then Williams, fledgling second sacker who has been on base safely in the last fourteen games, thumped his two bagger to the centerfield wall to bring in Westrum and Thompson and give the Giants their victory.

Barrett Gains Verdict

Pocono Pines—Barrett took the measure of Tobyhanna, 5-3, here yesterday in a pre-season practice game. Both Pocono Mountains League entries used 12 players. Doug Price, Winfield "Windy" Price and Lemar Price did the pitching for Barrett.

Pirates Make Pitcher Changes

Pittsburgh (AP)—The floundering Pittsburgh Pirates have acquired one new pitcher and let two others go.

Deal

Southpaw Bill Werle, who was fined $500 for breaking spring training rules, has been traded to the St. Louis Cards for righthander George Munger, 33-year-old veteran. It was a straight trade with only contracts exchanged.

The Pirates also sent pitcher Jim Suchecki back to the St. Louis Browns. He was picked up in the spring on a "look and decide" basis.

Warriorettes Down NYU

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College girls' tennis team won its second match in two outings on Saturday, when the charges of Coach Mary Whitenight took the measure of New York University on Saturday, 4-1, on the Normal Hill courts.

The Warriorettes made a clean sweep of the singles matches, as Jean Hecht launched the sweep with an easy 6-0, 6-0 victory over Faith Ward in the number one event.

Pauline "Polly" Shetlock gave ESSTC another point by downing NYU's Peggy Shroeder in the second singles encounter, 6-1, 6-1. Elaine Hardenberg, ESSTC, completed the sweep with a 6-2, 6-0 verdict over Sue Lubin in the third and final singles event.

Doubles

Janice Hudak and Mary Martin teamed to give ESSTC its fourth and final marker in the first doubles event, with a 7-5, 6-3 decision over New York University's Ward and Joan Cannon.

NYU averted a shutout by winning the final doubles event, 6-1, 6-2, as Doris Black and Fenna Muskator teamed to defeat ESSTC's Carol Mosser and Ethel Moyer.

Boat Upsets; Five Persons Lose Lives

Pittsburgh (AP) — Three men and two women drowned yesterday in the Allegheny River after their 16-foot motorboat flipped over in midstream.

There was only one survivor among the six persons who had crowded into the boat a few minutes before at a boat club. She is Mrs. Sylvia Long, 25, of Pittsburgh.

Dead are Robert Jonnett, of nearby Swissvale, the boat's owner; James Columbo, Thomas Sweeney, Mary Ann Brose, Mary M. O'Malley, all of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Long, hospitalized with shock, said she did not know what caused the tragedy.

The 112-horsepower boat righted itself after throwing the three men and three women into the water.

water. Then it began traveling in circles around the struggling group in the water.

Finally, the craft shot across the river and grounded itself on the north bank near Blawnox, a Pittsburgh suburb. Police said there was very little water in the boat when they reached it.

Mrs. Long said the craft was going at what she called a normal rate in a straight line when it upset.

Mrs. Long was the only victim afloat when the first rescuers reached the scene. She said later that just before rescurers reached her, Jonnett disappeared under the water. He had been helping her stay afloat.

Five Perish In Fire That Levels House

Bogota, N. J., (AP)—An early morning fire swept a two-family frame dwelling yesterday, killing four children and an adult.

Dead as a result of the blaze were four children of Mr. and Mrs. John Patton: Claire, 9, Eileen, 6, and Janet and Joyce, 2½-year-old twins; and Bernard Nelson, 60, of Hoboken, visiting the Patton home.

Brought down a ladder by firemen were Mr. and Mrs. Patton and the twin girls. One twin was still alive but died later at Holy Name Hospital in Teaneck.

A son of the Pattons, John, 11, escaped by climbing down a tree adjoining the house.

GOP Film Takes Rap At Truman

Washington, (AP) — Republicans struck at President Truman on the steel controversy and corruption issues yesterday in a half-hour film entitled "The Case for a Republican Congress."

The film, broadcast by NBC on television and radio as the first of a new series, "Hats in the Ring," is a courtroom scene produced by the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee in co-operation with the National and Senate Campaign Committees.

With three professional actors serving as judges, people's counsel, and defense counsel, Senate and House GOP leaders were called as witnesses to testify about the last Republican Congress, 1947-49, and what has happened since.

The judge in his instructions to the jury concludes with an apparent attack on Truman's seizure of the steel plants, asserting:

"Those who claim power above the law and above our Constitution serve their own ends, not those of our country."

The judge, played by Maurice Franklin, added:

"Those who would corrupt the people and their principles serve not America, but the forces of its destruction."

Appearing as witnesses for the Republican party were Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., of Massachusetts, House leader; Sen. Bridges, of New Hampshire, Senate leader; Sen. Mundt (SD), and Rep. Halleck (Ind); Rep. Brown (Ohio); Rep. Reed (NY), and Rep. Judd (Minn).

Democrats will be given an opportunity to telecast a film of their own later.

Crash Occurs When Traffic Is Rerouted

A grass fire indirectly caused a two-car collision about 5 p.m. yesterday at the intersection of Broad and Bryant Sts., South Stroudsburg.

Stroudsburg borough police were re-routing traffic to allow fire-fighting equipment to reach the scene of the grass fire near Club Court, a short distance away.

One of the detoured cars, operated by Leon Hunt, 146 Day St., East Stroudsburg, collided with another, driven by George R. Merryman, Cranford, N.J., according to borough police.

Damages were about $10 to the front end of the Hunt car and about $150 to the entire right side of the Merryman auto. There were no arrests.

Church Honors Minister On Anniversary

Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlsen celebrated the 25th anniversary of his pastorate at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, with special services yesterday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Rev. Theodore G. Tappert, D.D., Litt.D., professor of church history at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, was the guest speaker in the morning.

Dr. Wohlsen was presented with numerous gifts during the service including a large black satin-lined cape and beretta, used by clergy greeting congregations at the church door at close of services, and savings bonds on the part of the congregation.

There were also gifts for the pastor and Mrs. Wholsen from the Ladies' Aid, Altar Guild and Mrs. Robert B. Smith's Sunday School Class, the latter a silver tree with silver coins fastened on it, gift of class members. Mrs. Wohlsen was also given an orchid corsage by the congregation. A. F. Everitt, vice president of the vestry and chairman of the church and pastoral anniversary committee, made the presentation.

Dr. Tappert, in his discourse, tied in the scriptural passage used at the ordination of Lutheran ministers, pledging them to preach the straight gospel. This, he said, Dr. Wohlsen had religiously carried out during his long ministry. He referred to the many changes which have taken place in ministerial and other fields over the years, which have been replaced by the new, also many problems faced.

Speaking of the validity of continuing the ministry today in which science, television and newspapers and magazines figure, Dr. Tappert said the clergyman presents his plan with no special power or external authority, but approved inward.

The three most important things required of ministers today, the speaker declared are: Systematic understanding of people; know the kind of life the minister is living, and the vital knowledge of deeper ultimate needs of man and have confidence in him.

Dr. Tappert paid tribute to the fine pastorate of Dr. Wohlsen and the cooperation of Mrs. Wohlsen in his life work and wished them happiness and contentment in the future.

Mrs. Frederick Dieckmann, soprano soloist at Church of the Good Shepherd, New York City, was heard in the number, "How Lowly Are Thy Dwellings," with Robert H. Cathcart, organist, at the console. The senior and chancel choirs sang "Brother James' Air."

Three of the four sons of St. John's, who took up the Christian ministry during Dr. Wohlsen's pastorate, were in charge of the services last night. Rev. Asa S. Wohlsen, son of St. John's, pastor of an Allentown Lutheran church, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wohlsen, was the speaker Sunday night a week ago at the 85th anniversary service.

There were greetings by Rev. Charles E. Brodell, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Scranton, and Rev. William E. Dennis, B.D., pastor of Holy Trinity Church, Clarks Summit; also by Student Graham T. Rinehart, pastor-elect of the Berwick Lutheran Parish, who will be ordained at St. John's during the sessions of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania at Buck Hill Falls, May 19-22.
